Claims Act Barred Freedom Demos

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) —

One of the three Mississippi regular delegates who stayed at the Democratic National Convention said his actions probably kept the Freedom Democrats from getting the state's seats.

Douglas C. Wynn, 32, a Greenville lawyer, said yesterday he thinks the delegates on the convention floor would have allowed the Freedom Party to be seated if some of the regular delegates had not pledged loyalty to the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

Wynn attended a gathering at the President's Texas ranch after the nomination. He said Mississippi politics weren't discussed at the ranch, "we just talked politics in general."

Wynn called for the state's Democratic Convention to endorse President Johnson and Hubert Humphrey. "The honor of the state is at stake in this," he said.

President Lyndon B. Johnson is godfather of Wynn's daughter. His wife's father, who lives in Texas, is one of Johnson's closest friends.

DELGADO GETS OLD AIRPLANE

Naval Craft Made in WWII Era

Military retirees who go to school are not unusual, but when the retiree is a twin-engine C-45 aircraft, it becomes somewhat unique.

Such was the case with a Beechcraft aircraft which, after 24 years and 18 days of naval service at the United States Naval Air Station-Alvin Callender Field, became the property of Delgado College Wednesday.

Acceptance of the aircraft was made at the Naval Air Station by Marvin E. Thames, president of Delgado, and Melvin Uzee, aide to the president. Officiating at the transfer were Capt. Sidney N. Baney, station commandant, Sam G. Wynn, regional director of surplus property utilization, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Dallas, Tex., and A. L. LaCasse, director of the Louisiana Surplus Property Agency.

At Delgado, the plane will be instrumental in maintaining the college's Federal Aviation Agency certification for training aircraft mechanics and in meeting accreditation standards for the associates' degree in engineering technology programs.

The aircraft, built by Beechcraft Aircraft Corp., Wichita, Kans., was assigned Navy Bureau No. 023851 on March 13, 1944. Records are not available prior to February of 1954, but it has since flown 12,455.3 hours while stationed at Naval Air Stations in San Diego, Pensacola, Akron, Anacostia, Litchfield (Ariz.) and here.

Delgado Accepts Gift of Aircraft from Navy

OFFICIAL TRANSFER of a twin-engine C-45 Beechcraft airplane took place Wednesday at the Naval Air Station with the Navy donating the aircraft to Delgado College. Present at the transfer were (from left) Mel Uzee, aide to Delgado College president; William Monroe, chairman of Aerospace Department at Delgado; Capt. Sidney N. Baney, U.S. Navy, base commander; Marvin E. Thames, president of Delgado; Sam G. Wynn, regional director of surplus property utilization, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Dallas, Tex., and A. L. LaCasse, director of Louisiana Surplus Property Agency.

No S.D. Pledge, Requests HHH

HURON, S.D. (AP) — By the request of Hubert Humphrey there will be no slate of delegates pledged to the vice president in South Dakota's June 4 presidential primary election.

Rod Barnes of Huron, an organizer of a South Dakota drive to have Humphrey nominated or president, said Humphrey entered in the primary even if he should decide to seek the nomination, Barnes said.

Delegate slates for Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N. Y., and Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., are being organized in South Dakota. Both are announced candidates for the presidential nomination.

Barnes said he had information indicating Humphrey would announce his candidacy Wednesday.

RARICK PUSHES POVERTY BILL

Will Pay GI Travel Expenses Home

(Special to The Times-Picayune)

WASHINGTON — Rep. John R. Rarick of Louisiana's Sixth District introduced another poverty bill to pay air transportation home for American fighting men.

Rarick said his bill — H.R. 16364 — is intended to help "our men who receive leaves before going overseas to do their duty. The freshman congress man pointed out that many servicemen get little time to get home, and that paying transportation expense works a hardship on many men, or their families.

"In some cases Mom and Dad have had to mortgage the home in order to see their son for a few days or hours. It's not right to penalize the serviceman, or the parents of the boys who serve our nation by asking them to give up their sons and then pay for a chance to see them," Rarick said.

Rarick explained that this bill will help the poor parents of our servicemen.

"This bill is especially timely when there are so many who refuse military service and stay at home on tax-supported programs."

An earlier bill Rep. Rarick introduced would aid taxpayers by increasing the dependent allowance from $600 to $1,200 on the federal income tax. This bill is pending in committee.

Oil

La. Crude

Need Estimates to Be Accepted Today

By W. JEFF DAVIS

Demand for Louisiana crude oil is continuing to decline despite the two per cent cutback ordered for the month of April which is now in force.

Advance nominations for the month of May indicate the purchasers will ask for about 121,000 barrels less than the April estimates.

Conservation Commissioner J. M. Menefee will accept the industry's estimates of needs at a statewide hearing set for 9 a.m. Thursday in the Monteleone hotel's Queen Ann room.

April nominations totaled 2,105,187 barrels a day, which was a small reduction from the March nominations. At that time the Commissioner reduced Louisiana's per-well allowable by two per cent based on the depth bracket formula.

The May nominations will be below the 2,000,000 barrel a day figure, and are expected to wind up at around 1,985,000 barrels.

This is the season for refinery curtailment while the equipment is being repaired and new charge stocks for the catalytic crackers is installed. In addition the import quotas which were not filled last year, following the closing of the Suez canal and the Arab-Israeli war

GEORGE SÉNAC RAPIER
HIBERNIA BANK BUILDING
NEW ORLEANS, LA. 70112

October 14, 1967.

Dear Mr. Landrum:

As per our conversation last Thursday, I am enclosing copy of my chapter on Gwynn.

You will note that I only found 3 of the Gwynn's in my line, the first and second being natives of Wales. Of the first, Hooper Gwynn, our family has never learned the name of his wife.

Cordially yours,

Mr. Robert L. Landrum,
6416 Ponchartrain Blvd.,
New Orleans, La., 70124.

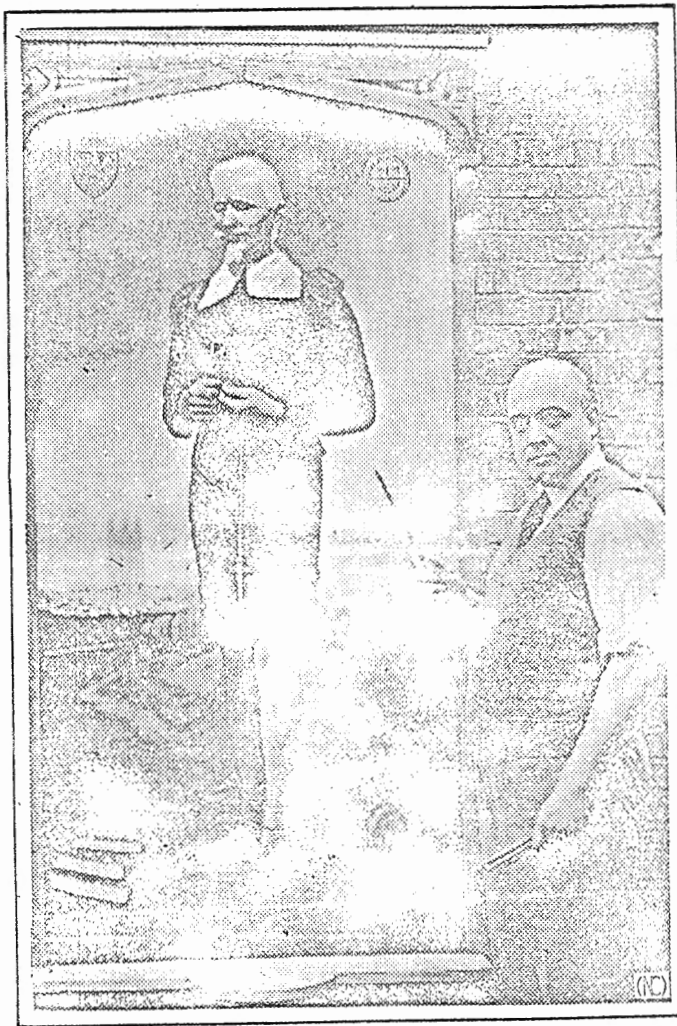

P. S. - You said you would favor me with copies of some of your Gwynn matter. Could I do the Xeroxing in our office? or could I reimburse you?

CHAPTER 24
GWYNN

Sometimes spelled Gwyn and Gwynne. It is pure Welsh, and means "white".

There are a great many Gwyns, Gwynns and Gwynnes in Welsh history, but I cannot refrain from beginning the chapter on Gwynn with a discussion of the life and martyrdom of Blessed Richard Gwynn, the 'protomartyr' of Wales, whose execution occurred just about 140 years before the birth of Hooper Gwynn, who was also a native of Wales, also a schoolmaster, also a devout Catholic, and who came to Maryland about 1736, and is, we know, our ancestor.

First let me show you a picture of the artist's conception of Blessed Richard Gwynn recently placed in the church at Dolgelly, Wales, and give you the definition of 'protomartyr' in The Catholic Dictionary:

Blessed Richard Gwynn, portrayed by the artist, was the 'proto-martyr' of Wales. He was hanged, drawn and quartered at Wrexham because he refused to attend the Protestant Church. The artist, R. A. Beoman, was commissioned to paint this picture for the Catholic Church at Dolgelly, for which he has painted three pictures of the Welsh martyrs.

PROTOMARTYR. The first martyr to give his life for Christ was St. Stephen the Deacon (Acts vii, 54-9). Other protomartyrs are: St. Alban, of Britain (c. 304); St. Fidelis of Sigmaringen, of the missionaries of the Propaganda congregation (1622); Bl. Cuthbert Mayne, of the seminary priests in England (1577); Juan de Padilla, O.F.M., and his companions, of America (1549); Bl. Richard Gwyn, of Wales (1584); Bl. John Houghton and his companions, of the English Reformation (1535).

And this is what the Catholic Encyclopedia says about him, under his pen-name "White":

White, vere GWYN, RICHARD, VENERABLE, martyr, b. at Llanilloes, Montgomeryshire, about 1537; executed at Wrexham, Denbighshire, 15 Oct., 1584. After a short stay at Oxford he studied at St. John's College, Cambridge, till about 1562, when he became a schoolmaster, first at Overton in Flintshire, then at Wrexham and other places, acquiring considerable reputation as a Welsh scholar. He had six children by his wife Catherine, three of whom survived him. For a time he conformed in religion, but was reconciled to the Catholic Church at the first coming of the seminary priests to Wales. Owing to his recusancy he was arrested more than once, and in 1579 he was a prisoner in Ruthin gaol, where he was offered liberty if he would conform. In 1580 he was transferred to Wrexham, where he suffered much persecution, being forcibly carried to the Protestant service, and being frequently brought to the bar at different assizes to undergo opprobrious treatment, but never obtaining his liberty. In May, 1583, he was removed to the Council of the Marches, and later in the year suffered torture at Bewdley and Bridgenorth before being sent back to Wrexham. There he lay a prisoner till the Autumn Assizes, when he was brought to trial on 9 Oct., and found guilty of treason and sentenced on the following day. Again his life was offered him on condition that he acknowledged the queen as supreme head of the Church. His wife consoled and encouraged him to the last. Five carols and a funeral ode composed by the martyr in Welsh have recently been discovered and published.

*An English contemporary biography printed in the Rambler, N. S., III (London, 1860); BRIDGWATER, Concertatio Ecclesie (Trèves, 1588), giving a contemporary Latin account; CHALLONER, Memoirs of Missionary Priests (London, 1741-42); THOMAS in Dict. Nat. Record Society, V, 90-99; WAINWRIGHT in Lives of the English Martyrs, III (London, 1912).*

EDWIN DUTTON.

The Catholic Encyclopedia not only has the foregoing to say about Richard Gwynn under his pen-name, but also has the following to say under the general caption of "Wales":

The "Carols" of Richard Gwyn alias White, who was cruelly martyred in Elizabeth's reign, had (though never printed) a great popularity, and must have borne a large share in the work of the Counter-Reformation in Wales. White was a schoolmaster at Wrexham, and a man of considerable attainments. His attachment to Catholicism was that of the scholar and the martyr combined, and the influence of his controversial rhymes was widespread and profound. In form and style he is evidently the model of Vicar Prichard's "Canwyll y Cymry" (Welshman's Candle), written in the reign of Charles I. This Protestant work, though, unlike the verses of Richard White, it was not only printed but also circulated with the support of the state Church, is by no means the equal of its prototype either in the purity of its Welsh or in the force and picturesqueness of its diction. White describes the Catholic Church as "a priceless institution conspicuous as the sun, though smoke mounts from Satan's pit, between the blind man and the sky". He gives nine reasons why men should refuse to attend the heretical worship: "Thou art of the Catholic Faith; from their church keep thyself wisely away lest thou walk into a pitfall. [This is his main argument.] The English Bible is topsy-turvy, full of crooked conceits. In the parish church there is now, for preacher, a slip of a tailor demolishing the saints; or any pedlar, feeble of degree, who can attack the pope. Instead of altar, a sorry trestle; instead of Christ, mere bread. Instead of holy things, a miserable tinker making a boast of his knavery. Instead of the images, empty niches. They who conform to the new religion will lose the seven virtues of the Church of God, the communion of all saints, and the privilege of authority given by Jesus Christ Himself to pardon sin." White's scornful description of the heretical ministers is founded on the fact that the difficulty of finding educated men to fill the places of the ejected Catholic clergy had necessitated the appointment of handicraftsmen of various kinds, and even grooms, to act as teachers of the Reformed religion.

This is your great-great-great-great-grandfather, from whom you have received 1/128 of your blood. He was born in Wales, married there, and his two children were also born there. I am arbitrarily placing the date of his birth at about 1705, and his marriage at about 1730. We do not know the name of his wife. Before leaving his native land for Maryland, where he settled in Prince George's County, he was a schoolmaster.

HOOPER
GWYNN

We find him in Maryland in 1736, also practicing his profession of being a schoolmaster, with his two young sons, Bennett and Thomas. But we have no record of the name of his wife. It could be that she died in the old country and that Hooper Gwynn was a widower when he came to America. Besides being a schoolmaster, we find that in 1742 he was Scrivener to the Court in Prince George's County.

This is your great-great-great-great-grandfather, from whom you have derived 1/64 of your blood. I have estimated his birth, in Wales, at about 1733. In 1773 he married Mary Ann Johnson in Maryland.

THOMAS
GWYNN

He became a Lieutenant in the Maryland Militia, and served during the entire Revolutionary War. Because he was not a native of any of the colonies, he signed the Oath of Fidelity and Support, which seems to have corresponded to becoming a naturalized citizen today, on February 20, 1778.

It would appear that all of his many children were born in Maryland, because, in the first census of the United States Thomas Gwynn is listed as the head of a family of 12 (himself, his wife and ten children) and the owner of eight slaves. This also gives the impression that he was not impoverished.

In the latter part of 1790 or the early part of 1791 he moved with his family, along with many other Marylanders, over the "Wilderness Trail", through the Cumberland Gap, to Kentucky, which had recently been discovered by Daniel Boone. The Rapier family also moved from an adjoining Maryland county to the same area in which the Gwynns settled, near Bardstown.

THOMAS
GWYNN
(Concluded)

Regina Rapier quotes B. J. Webb, in his book entitled "The Century of Catholicity in Kentucky" as stating that, previous to the erection of the first church of St. Joseph, Gwynn's house is said to have been the station for all Catholics residing within a circuit of eight miles. In his old age he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Hagan, whose residence was more than five miles from Bardstown, yet up to a short time before his death he would be seen, even on week days, walking the entire distance in order to be present at the first Mass in St. Joseph's Cathedral.

The name of one of the children listed in the 1790 census is lost, perhaps because the child died in infancy. None of the other nine married in Maryland. The list is, in the order of their birth, as follows:

Area Ann, who married William Rapier. She is the eldest, and these are your ancestors.
Elizabeth, who married Charles Rapier, William's brother.
James, who married Margaret Rapier, sister of William and Charles.
Fielder,
Susannah,
Eleanor,
Mary,
Henry,
David and Mechtilda.

Thomas Gwynn died in 1830. From the records I have, it would appear that he must have been at least, or nearly, one hundred years old.

This is your great-great-great-grandmother, from whom you have derived 1/32 of your blood.

AREA

GWYNN

Born in Maryland in 1778, moved to Kentucky with her parents in 1790 or 1791, she lived the life of a prosperous planter's wife and died in 1860 at the age of 82.

In 1796 she married William Rapier, and they had 12 children:

ANN

It was the fifth child of Area Ann Gwynn and her husband William Rapier, your ancestors, who came to Louisiana right after he graduated from the college at Bardstown, as a school teacher. This was in 1828, just twenty-five years after the Louisiana Purchase, eighteen years after the Battle of Baton Rouge, and only thirteen years after the Battle of New Orleans. The college at which he taught was at Manchac, in Iberville Parish, just a few miles downstream from Baton Rouge, and the people of Louisiana did not like the Americans very much -- particularly the Kentuckians. I do not know what he wrote his parents, but I have in my possession a letter from Area Ann Gwynn Rapier to her son, which I will quote in full, because I think it is very interesting:

Prospect Hill (Kentucky)
December 17, 1828.

My dear Son

I write to you that you may see a line from the hand of your mother and that you may not forget one that loves you so well. The time seems to me long since I saw you, but I hope the time will come I shall see you again if it is best for you. I know my Children cannot be with me allways, therefore I wish them to go whear they can do best for them selves. As for news I have none that is much interesting for you. There has nothing strange taken place among your relations since you left us. Thear has been some deaths among your acquaintances. Judge Reed died about the last of October. Old Mrs. Robberts died the 4 of November. -- We have not purchested A negro yet for Teresa. She seems to be very easy about having one, tho we shall buy one as soon as we can meet with one that suits as we know she cannot do without if she wear sick.

Far weell my dear Child and believe me theare is no day passes but I think of you manny times in the day.

Area A Rapier

- o o o -

In keeping with my announced format, it is now time to insert at the end of the treatise on Area Ann Gwynn Rapier a brief summary of those of your collateral relatives that have distinguished themselves. However, in this instance the research would be too lengthy for me to conclude this work on its target date.

But I must mention one son of Area Ann Gwynn Rapier, namely, Charles William Rapier:

Perhaps the best place to start a presentation of my great-grand-uncle is to lift the text about him out of "Alabama, Her History, Resources, War Record, and Public Men" (W. Brewer; Willow Publishing Company of Tuscaloosa, -- Mobile Public Library.):

CHARLES
RAPIER

Few names are more familiar to the bar of south Alabama than that of Judge Rapier of this county. For fifteen years, and till recently, he filled the office of circuit court judge with satisfaction to the public and honor to himself. CHARLES WILLIAM RAPIER was born in Nelson county, Kentucky, in 1819, his father being a farmer of English descent. He was educated at Bardstown and Lexington, graduating in the law school at the latter place. He also read law with Judge Rowan, afterwards federal senator. In 1842 he came to Mobile, opened a law office, and soon took high rank at the bar. In 1853 he was elected to the circuit bench over the incumbent, Hon. John A. Cuthbert. Again in 1859, after a thrilling canvass—in which the friends of the two candidates exerted themselves strenuously—he was elected for a second term of six years over the late Major O. S. Jewett of Clarke. The war ending just at the close of his term, Gov. Parsons continued Judge Rapier on the bench at the request of the bar; and he was again elected in May 1866. He continued to fill its duties till the congressional reconstruction of July 1868 forced him from office. In 1867 he married Miss Labretta, a Mobile lady of Italian birth. Judge Rapier is tall and rather spare, his features betokening benevolence and veneration. He is unobtrusive and modest in his deportment, and lent to the bench the lustre of a blameless life.

A great deal more could be said about the judge, but I will add but one amusing thing: Grandpa Rapier used to tell me that he was very tall and lanky, and that he preferred to ride his donkey than to ride a horse. It was amusing to see him riding astride the small animal, with the stirrups almost dragging the ground.

His line has completely vanished. He married late in life, and had two sons who lived normal life spans and married. But one had no children and the other had but one child who died in his childhood.

- o o o -

And thus the name Gwynn disappears from your genealogy many years ago. A name to be very proud of.

HOLDING THE TITLE to 3.6 acres of land from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to be used in educating mentally retarded children in New Orleans is held by U.S. REP. F. EDWARD HEBERT and MRS. MILDRED BLOMBERG, Orleans Parish School Board president, as SAM WYNN, assistant director of Surplus Property Utilization for HEW, looks on.

Aid for Mentally Retarded

N.O. Gets Land for School

The Orleans Parish School Board today received a parcel of land in Algiers from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Buildings on the site will house education facilities for training mentally retarded children in New Orleans.

The transfer of property was finalized today in the New Orleans office of U.S. Rep. F. Edward Hebert, who aided in the acquisition of the land.

Mrs. Mildred Blomberg, school board president, was presented the title to 3.6 acres of property by Sam Wynn, assistant regional director of Surplus Property Utilization for HEW. The tract is part of the old U.S. Quarantine Station at Richland Road and Socrates Street.

Pointing out the need for such a facility, Mrs. Blomberg said that in the past the school system has not been able to serve all trainable mentally retarded youngsters in New Orleans.

Mentally retarded children living on the West Bank, she said, previously had to enroll in schools across the Mississippi River or had to attend schools outside the public school system in order to find training programs.

"With this facility," she said, "the public school system can provide a program of mental, physical, social and educational rehabilitation allowing West Bank youngsters to remain in the home and in the community."

The school board applied for the land last fall under the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act.

The parcel contains five two-story cottages, which will be converted into classrooms and workrooms, according to school board plans.

Hebert said he was happy to cooperate with the school system and added "I am especially happy to be a part of this project for the mentally retarded."

Hebert was instrumental in helping the school board acquire the land for O. Perry Walker High School, and in gaining the use of the Camp Street post office building to temporarily house McDonogh 35 High School.

The curriculum to be used in the Algiers facilities, said the school board, will begin with sensory-motor training

Vikings, Rebels In Title Clash

The Lakeview Vikings bring a defense of gigantic proportions into their match with the Carrollton Rebels for the NORD Boosters bantam football 12-year-old city championship tonight at Kirsch-Rooney Stadium at 8 p. m.

Coach Paul Burgard has seen his charges run up a 6-0 season's record and a perfect defensive mark as no touchdowns were scored against them all year.

CARROLLTON, under coach Leon Fletterich, had three touchdowns scored against them, but blanked four foes.

They had a 6-0 regular season mark and then downed Oak Park in the playoff semifinals.

Both clubs have a bevy of top offensive threats. The two quarterbacks, Danny Caballero for Lakeview and Jerry Keller for Carrollton, can both pass and run equally well.

The Vikings have consistent scoring threats in halfbacks Roy Oelking and Sonny Rauch and fullback Mike Morrow.

CARROLLTON counters with halfbacks Wynn Russo and Steve Eckerle and fullback Ricky McDaniel.

Lakeview rates a one to two touchdown favorite.

Houston Panel Studies C of C Fire Program Here

Seven members of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Houston, Tex., arrived at the New Orleans Lakefront Airport today for a one-day visit to study the planned fire prevention programs of the Chamber of Commerce of the New Orleans Area.

Jack Westney, secretary to the Houston Fire Prevention Committee, said that the committee, dropped from their chamber's program three years ago, was reactivated in April "and we are here to take the ideas of your fine committee back with us."

Houston committee chairman O. C. Hart said "There has always been an excellent and cordial relation between the Houston and New Orleans chambers."

AMONG THOSE greeting the group were A. Lee Dunlap, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the New Orleans chamber; James Wynne, manager of the committee; Joseph Lane, deputy state fire marshal, Fire Supt. Arthur J. Heyd, and David Fontaine Jr., supervisor of the New Orleans Fire Department.

From the airport the Houston visitors and welcoming party went to the Fontainebleau Motor Hotel to go over aspects of the local fire prevention program.

Wynne said among the most important aspects of the New Orleans program is the observance of Fire Prevention Week which will be observed Oct. 4 through 10.

Among other activities to be discussed were the success of the local program in keeping fire insurance rates down; passing laws banning the use of firecrackers within the city limits, and the installation of fire alarm telephone boxes throughout the city.

WYNNE SAID the local group has received recognition in the National Fire Protection Association and United States Fire Safety contests for the past 10 years.

The program also included a luncheon at the Fontainebleau where Raymond D. Sparkman, a vice-president of the Chamber, presided.

Dear Mrs. Waters:

I have always been interested in family history but have only recently started working on family charts. If I had started sooner before the death of my father and other older members of the family it would have been so much easier. However, I find it most exciting and can hardly wait to get another name or date.

From friends who have been doing this sort of thing for a long time, I have secured magazines on genealogy and it was from one of these that I found your name.

Below are the names of my father, grandfather, and greatgrandfather:

WYNN, Walter Ridley
Born 1897

WYNN, George Edward
Born 1853

WYNN, Ridley Buncombe
Born 1799

I have nothing further back than Ridley B. who lived near Nashville, Tennessee and later moved to Shelbyville, Tennessee where his first wife is buried. He later came to this county, Tishomingo, where he is buried.

WYNN, Ridley B. ---- First wife: Phanny Miles

Children: Frances
Dollie
Katie
Gideon and perhaps others

---- Second wife: Rebecca Hopkins

Children: W. H. (I don't know what his name was.)
George Edward) twins Samuel Augustus)
Milton L.
Esther (Two other daughters, names unknown, and possibly other sons.)

I remember hearing my father say there was one son with whom the family lost contact. I do not know if this was W. H.

Do any of these names mean anything to you? I would enjoy hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Ruth Wynn

Mrs. H. W. Waters

Dear Mrs. Waters:

Thank you for sending me the name of John Lane. I have found that he is a relative and he has given me some much appreciated information.

I will bring you up to date on what I know, hoping some of the names might tie in with your Wilson County Wynne's.

In the beginning I had known nothing beyond my greatgrandfather, Ridley Buncombe Wynn, born 1799. I have learned he was born in North Carolina. His mother's name was Rebecca. It is believed her maiden name was Nash as she owned part of the Nash estate and was closely connected with the Nash family. I have been unable to find the name of Rebecca's husband, and that is what I need right now.

Rebecca Wynne's will, recorded 1826 in Wilson County, Tennessee, lists the following children:

Elizabeth
Joseph B.
Ridley
James
Frances Polly
Rebecca
Judy

I have also learned from property records that Bird Wynne was a close relative.

Ridley's children by his first marriage were: Thomas R., Gilbert, Joseph, Gideon, Dollie, Katie and Frances. All of these were born in Tennessee.

Thank you so very much for all your information.

Sincerely yours,

Ruth Wynn

Dear Mrs. Waters:

First let me thank you for your nice letter. I have received several letters but yours was one of the most informative I have received. Every time I get a new name I try to piece it in somewhere. I find it so very interesting and as you said confusing sometimes.

As I had never known any Wynn's here except my immediate family, I had assumed that my great grandfather, Ridley Buncombe Wynn, was the first in these parts. However, I now have a copy of the 1850 Census of Tishomingo County and found that there were other here at that time. I am sending you a copy of the census. Since you have Mississippi Wynn's I thought they might have passed through this way. Also, I found in an old tattered history of Tishomingo County at the time the county was established (1836) the following:

John E. Winn
William Winn
Wilson Winn
Richard Winn
Mary Winn

And in the list of Tishomingo County men who fought in the Civil War B. A. Winn. All these names are new to me.

From the census I found that Ridley B. was born in North Carolina which I did not know before. Also I have learned from property records that there were close relatives named Bird and James Wynn. Notice the James on the census record. I feel he may be an older son of my greatgrandfather, the last R. B. shown on the census. I may have already told you this but I think R. B. 's mother was also named Rebecca. Someone has told me they think her maiden name was Nash.

Last week end we made a trip up in east Tennessee and came back by way of Lebanon and Nashville. I did not have much time but did enjoy digging around in some old records at the Wilson County Court House. I am sending you a copy of what I found. I notice some of your family names but you may already have the information shown. I would like to be able to find the name of Ridley B. Wynn's father. I feel that we are related to the others who lived in Wilson County at the time he was there.

I would appreciate any information or suggestions you might have.

Sincerely yours,

Ruth Wynn

From History of Wilson Co, Tenn. by Dixon Merrett 1961 p.20

" Inten the wilderness came men and their families, chiefly N.C. such as John K. Wynne and Charles Kavanaugh--(one historian dates their coming as 1794 another 1799. Most likely date of this settlement is autumn of 1797). Three well known N.C. Benjamin Seawell, The Rev. Green Hill, and Seth Mabry, related by marriage, moved to the new county together some years after the close of the Revolution. Green Hill had visited middle Tenn. in the spring of 1796 according to his Journal, and returned with his family in 1799, settling in Williamson Co. The home of Col. Benj. Seawell, built near Horn Springs before 1799, according to records stood until recent years. John Wynne, a Virginian who had moved to N.C. and his John Knibb Wynne, were the first of a large family to settle in Wibson Co. The date 1797 has been reliably assigned to their first coming. --- Sally Wynne married Jeremiah Stell in Va. and settled with her husband and family on Bartons Cfeek side of Ridge in 180

This history also mentions mimeograph manuscript by George W. Wynne called "Genealogy Notes of the Wynne Family" 1954.

Polly Wynne married John A. Granade in 1805. Granade taught Wynne, Babb and Ste children in Barton's Creek neighborhoods during 1799. He died in 1807.

page 52 Corn moved with, around, behind, and ahead of the settlers coming to Wilson Co. The grain soon became a bartering agent. Robert Wynne, one of the county's earliest settlers paid his rent with corn. A note found in John K. Wynne papers and dated 1802 states: "Robert Wynne agrees to pay on or before 15gh day of Nov. Nathan Allen 108 bushels of good seed corn for the rent of his fields.

p.95. First teachings in Wilson Co. done by "stomping preacher" John Adam Granade. He used for his textbook the Epistles of Paul to the Romans and Corinthians. He made up speeches so eloquent that quite inadvertently, he converted himself to religion and requested appointment as a circuit prescher of Methodist Church.

The chairman of 1828 of Campbell Academy governing committee was John L. Wynne. Also he was one of the original trustees in 1806 and gave land, 40 acres, where the first Academy was built.

marriage bonds were not required in N.C. when contracting parties posted banns. These families were so close to Green Hill & his church activities that most certain posted banns.

Benjamin Seawell, father of Elizabeth, seems to have been too old for any Revolutionary activities when he died in 1778. His name is not on any list of names of persons who took the oath in spring of 1778 contained in Thomas Pittman papers. List may not be complete. Am assuming the hundreds of references in Colonial & State Records are for his son, Benjamin - There was one in the Senate from Bute in 1777, & from Franklin in 1779.

The first record found of Seth Mabry was for Jan. 7, 1778, when as a resident of Bute he purchased land of James Brantly. Other Mabrys were there earlier-- Francis in 1772 or earlier. The Joshua Mabry who came from Mecklenburg Co. about 1773 had lived there when the county was Lunenburg. The names of Joshua Mabry Joshua Mabry, Jr., and Ephraim Mabry were on the 1764 tax list, published in Landon C. Bell's 'SUNLIGHT OF THE SOUTHSIDE'. Some of the other Mabrys did not live in the same section as Seth, but up near the Va. line and were in Warren Co. after Bute was abolished.

I think that in 1797 Seth Mabry had decided to go to Tenn., but he was in Franklin Co. in June 1798, when he acknowledged the deed to Joseph Smith. It is possible that he had already ~~xxx~~ been to Tenn., and returned for his family. They often did that. Neither he nor John Knibb Wynne paid the slightest attention to the law requiring the wife's signature to the deed when the homestead was sold.

The mimeographed copy of the 1820 census for Sumner Co., Tenn. (Houston) shows the following: p. 28 Seth Mabry 2 males 18 to 26
1 male 45 and up
1 female 45 and up

I wanted to search the Franklin Co. court minuted for 1797 and 1798 to see if the wives of Seth Mabry and John Knibb Wynne came into court and relinquished their right of dower in the homestead, but the minutes for that period have been withdrawn.

~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ In addition to the 1781 item from the Revolutionary Accounts Seth Mabry was a justice of the Franklin Co. court. We have no court minutes, but I find the following item:

N.C. State Records, Vol. XIX, p. 177

Friday, May 2, 1783

Resolved that the Proceedings of Henry Hill, Benjamin Seawell, Wm. Green and Seth Mabry Esquires, in rejecting the assessment of the property of the Inhabitants of Franklin Co on the south side of the co in Dec. last & the other assessors were erroneous & that the first assessment should have been received by the court & the taxes collected accordingly.

This shows Mabry was justice in 1782.

The Records of this office show that John Wynn, not born as John Wynne, served in the Revolutionary war as a private in Captain Cleon Moore's Company, designated as the Virginia Regiment of Foot, Commanded by Col. William Haydon. He enlisted April 25 1777. In three years appears to have reenlisted in the war in Feb. 1779. Was transferred by consolidation Col. Gist's & Captain Francis Muir's Co. Col. Nathaniel Gist's roll for Nov. 1779. His name also appears on a record under the following headings; A List of Soldiers of the Va. line on Continental Establishment who have received Certificates for the Balance of their Full pay agreeable to an act of Assembly passed Nov. Session 1781 which shows that on Nov. 7, 1782 the sum £36 was received by one John Coleman

In a sketch of Green Hill by Thomas Neal Ivey, it is stated that Thomas Knibbe Wynne married Nancy Hill, a daughter of Green Hill by his first wife, Nancy Thomas. There is a lot of information about the Green Hill family, but nothing about the Mabry relatives or John Knibb Wynne. It seems that two old Hill Bibles had been preserved.

I hope that it will possible for you to obtain information from the Tenn. records on the Mabry children, and also for John Knibb Wynne.

December 14, 1973

Dear Mr. Landrum:

Wynne Family

The lady whose name I could not remember when talking with you Wednesday night was Mary Hewitt, dau. of William Hewitt and Mary Hansford, b. York Co., Va., c. 1695, d. Greensville Co., Va., c. 1788, (Will recorded Orange Co., Va.-See Torrence), m.(1) c. 1717, Thomas Powell, (2) c.1745, Dr. Robt. Philipson, (3) c. 1750, Robt. Wynne.

An interesting side light on this situation was a suit filed against Mary Wynne by heirs of Dr. Robt. Philipson in 1746, which was not settled until 1805.

If you need further references let me know and I will try to furnish them.

I should be pleased to hear from your friend who is researching a Powell family in North Carolina. I have not done any significant research in North Carolina on this family; however, a good bit of my Virginia research has led to this state and I have acquired considerable information on some lines.

Sincerely

Charles D. Powell

Have promised you this for a long time. Had to give up on getting it zeroxed so many hours of typing had to be done. Hope some of it will help you put another piece of the puzzle together. If you do, please share it with me.

The rest of my Wynne file contains things like census (Va. 1790, etc) which I'm sure you have or have access to.

Also have bits and pieces of information concerning the Wilson Co, Tenn Wynne family which I have gotten in the various court houses.

Some of this info from Pauline Palmer was done 40 or more years ago + is not correct in many instances but probably was the first research done on the Wynn-Maley family + interesting + helpful -

Dear Mrs. Wynne,

I want you to have a record of this Wynn family but I must send a letter of explanation also-

It is not I but my husband through whom I trace this Wynn name.
Our address is changed from Clarinda, Iowa to Arkansas where I cannot now attend the genealogy society of which I was a member.
I am not able at this time to become a pd. member of your organization.

I will also say you can use these names I have given you anyway you wish.
and will do any other research or whatever you might need for a book.

An interested member might be- Forest Wynn, RR#4, Clarinda, Iowa.

Dear Cousin:

It is so nice to know that someone is working on the Winn line, and thanks so very much for the invitation to join in and have a part in this undertaking. Since I do not have a Winn connection for sure, I think it best for the time being, for me to decline--sorry. I do have miscellaneous bits of Winn material that I will gladly give.

I do know from experience that much work and some expenses will be necessary in doing a thing like you are undertaking. I have done two lines--Murffs and Ceckerhams, have these in print, and then I have my Crosby line pretty well done back to a Dennis Crosby of Fairfield Co., S. C., dated back to 1774.

In doing my mother's Ceckerham line, I was able to go back to a Capt. William Ceckerham who came into Jamestown, Va., 1639. He married, Mary, daughter of Capt. William Spencer, who came to Va. on first ship in 1607. William and Mary had two sons, Thomas and William.

Starting with myself I go back something like this; my mother Leuella Ceckerham daughter of a William Ceckerham, his father was Peter Ceckerham born 1786 Lunenburg Co., Va. Peter was son of William Winn Ceckerham, and William Winn C. was son of Henry Ceckerham and Elizabeth his wife.

William Winn Ceckerham was married to Edith Stone, dau. of Richard Stone of Va. I have Richard Stone's will (just a copy), and this will mentions William Winn Ceckerham as being a son in law. William Winn C. and Edith had 12 children, one being Peter, my great grandfather.

I also have a copy of Henry Ceckerham's will, dated 1754, Lunenburg Co., Va. This will names two sons, Henry and William. John Beddie's books mention that this son William's full name was William Winn Ceckerham. Beddie has it like this: "Henry Ceckerham of the will 1754 was son of a William Ceckerham and wife Mary Winn, dau. of a Col. William Winn of Va." Henry's will did not mention his wife by name, but other court records mention the wife as being Elizabeth_____. Some researchers says this Elizabeth was a Winn. So these unproven bits of information is where and how I tie into the Winn family.

Thanks again for your letter of March 11, and I wish you best success in your undertaking.

Dear Mrs. Wynne:

I have your letter of February 26 requesting information on the Wynnes located in Tennessee.

My husband's name was Peolia Howard Wynne. He was born in Covington, Tennessee in 1883 and he passed away in Nashville in 1940. His father's name was Joe Wynne, and he owned quite a bit of property on which the city of Memphis is now built and also owned some land in Covington. His other children were sons named Jesse, Garnett, and Clyde and daughters named Ruby, Katie, Georgie, and Daisy.

I am not familiar with any of the people mentioned in your letter. I hope the above information will be of some help to you in tracing your family tree.

Yours very truly,

P. H. Wynne

SOME EARLY FAMILIES OF MATHEWS COUNTY

Extracts from register of Kingston Parish.

Kingston Parish was originally one of the Parishes of Gloucester County. There are loose leaves of an old vestry book, going back to the year 1677, the first of which leaves do not indicate how much older the book was. It was called the parish in the North River precinct.

In Meades "Old Churches of Virginia" mention is made of the names of Dudleys, Armisteads, Carys, Tabbs, Gwynns, Billups, Thorckmortons, and Sir John Peyton as being among the vestrymen most prominent in Church matters. Kingston Parish had the honor of training Judith Armistead, who lived at "Hesse" on the Piankintank River, in the ways of the Church of England to Christian womanhood. She became the wife of Robert Carter of Lancaster County, and thus the ancestress of General Robert E. Lee.

List of births—Frances, daughter of William and Elizabeth Gwynn, born June 26, 1755.

Mary, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Winder, born July 3, 1755. Thomas, son of Thomas and Sarah Jervis (Jarvis), born May 7, 1756. James, son of Henry and Mary Bernard, born July 16, 1756. Ann, daughter of Robert and Catherine Armistead, born Sept. 12, 1756. John, son of Anthony and Ann Singleton, born Oct. 12, 1758. William, son of Rev. John and Lucy Dixon, born Oct. 12, 1758. William, son of Gwynn and Dorothy Reade, born Oct. 25, 1758. John, son of Humphrey and Frances Gwynn, born March 27, 1756; Frances, daughter, born Dec. 5, 1757. John, son of Frances and Elizabeth Jervis, born July 8, 1756; Thomas, son, born March 1, 1759. George Reade, son of Israel and Maria Christian, born Aug. 20, 1755; Bailey, son, born Dec. 25, 1757.

"The Ransone Family"

Peter Ransone, the ancestor of the Ransone or Ransone family in Virginia, patented 1100 acres of land on North River in Gloucester, now Mathews in 1652. He and William Whitby being the two first patentees in that section. He left three sons, James, George, and William. George married a widow, Margaret Gore. There is no further mention of William. James inherited the land of his brother George, and was living as late as 1704, when as Capt. James Ransone he patented 30 acres on North River. He was vestryman of Kingston church in 1677, justice of the peace for Gloucester in 1680, Colonel of militia in 1699, and member of the House of Burgesses in 1692. He married the daughter of Capt. Ambrose Dudley of Gloucester, and is probably the ancestor of those of the Ransone family now living in Mathews. There were three sons, George, Robert and Peter. Robert or Peter married a Miss Armistead. Their daughter Ann married Robert Billups, son of Joseph Billups, Sr., on June 14, 1755. William, son of Robert and Ann Billups, married Mary Richardson in 1787.

From the Kingston Parish register, James, son of James and Letitia Ransone, born June 28, 1755; Ann born Dec. 26, 1756; Robert, Dec. 29, 1758; Sarah, March 15, 1760; Letitia, April 13, 1762; Lucy, April 20, 1764.

Richard Ransone and Anne Whiting, married, March 21, 1771; John Gwyn and Dorothy Ransone, Feb. 6, 1773; Augustine Ransone and Catherine Hill, April 18, 1753; Robert Gwyn and Anne Ransone, Jan. 25, 1777.

Matthew James, son of Richard and Anne Whiting Ransone, born Dec. 25, 1773.

In Mathews County in 1836, Margaret Ransone (nee Grayes) testified she was the widow of Thomas Ransone, Lieut. in 2nd Virginia Regiment, State line. He served from 1776 to the end of the war, entering service under Capt. Peter Bernard at Gwynns Island. He died in 1817. They were married in 1777. Children, Thomas, Daniel, Henry, James, Martha, Lucy, Francis, and Elizabeth.

B. M. S.

It would be interesting to know if any of the 1100 acres of land mentioned above is still in possession of the descendants of the Ransone family. If any of the readers of this article have any information in this connection we would be glad to hear from them.

JARRETT—KOUNSE—GWINN

born December 5, 1775, and died February 24, 1870. He married, January 11, 1803, Ruth Gwinn. (Gwinn III.) They had a daughter, Delilah, of whom further.

(Oren F. Morton: "A History of Monroe County, West Virginia," p. 348. Family records.)

III. Delilah Jarrett, daughter of James (2) and Ruth (Gwinn) Jarrett, was born January 9, 1808, and died in Madison County, Indiana, November 24, 1836. She married Thornton Warren. (Warren II.)

(O. F. Morton: "A History of Monroe County, West Virginia," p. 414. Family records.)

(THE KOUNSE LINE)

The surname Kounse, of German origin, is also spelled Kouns, Kounts, Koontz and Counts. A Balzer Koontz came to America from Germany in the colonial period, and had nine sons who served in the Revolutionary War. According to tradition, he was a German admiral who had left the home base to perform some mission. On his return he found the enemy flag flying, so turned about and sailed to America, settling in Pennsylvania.

(Oren F. Morton: "A History of Monroe County, West Virginia," p. 331.)

I. John Kouns, or Counts, first recorded ancestor of this line, came from Pennsylvania to what is now West Virginia, and was a resident of Monroe County at its formation in 1799. He married Keziah, whose surname is not known, and they had a son, George, of whom further.

(Ibid. Family records.)

II. George Kouns, or Kounse, son of John and Keziah Kouns, or Counts, was born in June 1778, died in 1865, and was buried at Rehoboth. He married in September 1799, Margaret Keenan. (Keenan III.) Among their nine children was a daughter, Eleanor, of whom further.

(Ibid.)

III. Eleanor Kounse, daughter of George and Margaret (Keenan) Kouns, or Kounse, was born November 18, 1806, and died January 7, 1882.

She married John Johnson, or Johnston. (Johnson IV.)

(Ibid.)

(THE GWINN LINE)

The surname Gwinn is of Welsh origin, derived from the nickname "Gwyn," meaning fair or white, probably referring to the complexion. Other spellings are Gwin, Gwynn and Gwynne.

(H. Harrison: "Surnames of the United Kingdom." C. W. Bardsley: "Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames.")

I. Robert Gwinn, progenitor of this line, is thought to have been a native of the Old World. About 1745 he removed from North Carolina to Virginia, settling on the Calypas-ture River in Augusta County.

Robert Gwinn married a wife whose name is not known, and had six sons, one of whom was Samuel, of whom further.

(Oren F. Morton: "A History of Monroe County, West Virginia," p. 348. Family records.)

II. Samuel Gwinn, son of Robert Gwinn, was born in Augusta County, Virginia, in 1752, and died March 27, 1839. With his brother James he settled on the Greenbrier River in what is now West Virginia about 1770. He served in the battle of Point Pleasant in 1774, and at various times as a spy and scout on the frontier. The homestead built by him was standing as late as 1916. Although a resident of a poor pioneer community, his good management enabled him to divide twelve thousand dollars in specie among his sons, Andrew and Samuel, Junior, each taking half a bushel of coin and carrying it by pack saddle to his home. Samuel Gwinn was listed as head of a family in Greenbrier County, Virginia, in 1783-86, and he was still living there on March 12, 1834, when he was allowed a pension.

Samuel Gwinn married in 1775, Elizabeth (Lockridge) Graham. (Lockridge III.) They had a daughter, Ruth, of whom further.

(O. F. Morton: "A History of Monroe County, West Virginia," pp. 348-49. "Heads of Families at the First Census of the United States, 1790, Virginia," p. 109. Family records.)

III. Ruth Gwinn, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Lockridge-Graham) Gwinn, was born April 10, 1788, and died March 3, 1862.

She married James (2) Jarrett. (Jarrett II.)

(O. F. Morton: "A History of Monroe County, West Virginia," p. 348. Family records.)

(THE DICKEY LINE)

Dickey or Dickie is a surname of nickname origin, evolved obviously from the popular given name Richard. The name is sometimes found spelled Dikkie in Scottish records.

(H. Harrison: "Surnames of the United Kingdom." George F. Black: "The Surnames of Scotland.")

I. Michael Dickey, first of this line to be of definite record, was born about 1720, and died September 26, 1805. He resided in Augusta County, Virginia, and served in Captain James Cathey's company of militia there in 1742. He was still in the militia in September 1758. In 1767 he served as a juror and was surveyor of highways, and in 1792 he was a trustee of the Augusta Stone Meeting House Congregation.

Michael Dickey married in 1742, Mary, whose surname is unknown, and they had a son, John, of whom further.

("Virginia Magazine of History and Biography," Vol. VIII, p. 280. Lyman Chalkley: "Chronicles of the Scotch Irish Settlement of Virginia," Vol. I, pp. 139, 143; Vol. II, p. 162; Vol. III, p. 594. W. W. Hening: "Statutes at Large," Vol. VII, p. 181. Family records.)

II. Captain John Dickey, son of Michael and Mary Dickey, was born about 1745, and died between July 10, and August 28, 1809, the dates when his will was signed and probated. On August 15, 1780, he qualified as a captain of the militia of Augusta County. In 1807 he was executor of the will of his father-in-law.

Captain John Dickey married Isabel, or Isbold Patterson, a daughter of James Patterson, a Revolutionary soldier, whose will was probated September 29, 1807. They had a daughter, Mary, or Polly, of whom further.

(L. Chalkley: "Chronicles of the Scotch Irish Settlement of Virginia," Vol. I, pp. 216, 235; Vol. II, pp. 471, 502. H. J. Eckenrode: "List of Colonial Soldiers of Virginia," pp. 137, 343. Family records.)

III. Mary, or Polly Dickey, daughter of Captain John and Isabel, or Isbold (Patterson) Dickey, married Richard Johnson, or Johnston. (Johnson III.)

GARDINER—GWYNN

IX. Marie Hildegard (Hilda) Gardiner, daughter of Ignatius Aloysius and Mary Olivia (Gwynn) Gardiner, married Philip Ignatius Heuisler. (Heuisler III.) She is a member of the Colonial Dames of Southern Maryland.

(Family data.)

(THE GWYNN LINE).

Gwinn, Gwyn, Gwynn, Gwynne and Gwin, all variants of the same nickname, are from the Welsh, and probably refer to the complexion, meaning "the white."

(Bardsley: "Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames.")

I. Bennett Gwynn, first of the line of record, was born in 1769, in Prince George's County, Maryland, and died between April 13, 1826, the date of his will, and June 13, 1826, the date it was proved. Inventory of the estate was filed June 29, 1826, by its executor, William H. Gwynn, in the courthouse at Upper Marlboro, Prince George's County. The provisions of the will follow:

- Item. Son William H., his heirs and assigns my dwelling plantation.

He married (second), February 21, 1797, in Prince George's County, Susannah Hilleary, daughter of Henry Hilleary. The census of 1800 shows three sons under ten, so the oldest must have been of the first marriage: Bennett Gwynn married (third), August 29, 1807, in Prince George's County, Rebecca Edelin. In his will, dated January 11, 1810, Richard Edelin names his daughter, "Rebecca Gwinn." Bennett Gwynn married (fourth), January 23, 1819, Teresa Boone, the wife named in his will.

GWYNN—BOARMAN

William H. Gwynn married (first), about 1826, Resella Boone. He married (second), February 15, 1836, Jane Berry; (third) Jane Edelen. The first wife must have died in 1834-35, as their youngest son, according to the records, was born in 1834. The oldest child of the second marriage could not have been over fourteen in 1850. So it must be assumed that the first three children were of the first marriage.

Children of first marriage:

1. B. I. J., born about 1827.
2. Maria Regina, born October 7, 1830.
3. William H., born about 1834.

Children of second marriage:

4. Jane C., born in 1841.
5. Mary Olivia, of whom further.
6. Frances or Fanny V., born in 1846-48; married a Mr. Thomas.
7. Louisa W., born in 1847; married Livingston Young.

III. Mary Olivia Gwynn, daughter of William H. and Jane (Berry) Gwynn, was born in 1844, in Prince George's County, Maryland. She married Ignatius Aloysius Gardiner. (Gardiner VIII.) (Mrs. Marie Hildegard (Gardiner) Heuisler Royal Descent from Charlemagne XXXVIII.)

(Ibid. A. N. Parran: "Register of Maryland's Heraldic Families," p. 180.)

(THE BOARMAN LINE).

According to the "Visitation of Somerset," the Boarman family of Maryland is probably descended from the Boreman or Boureman family of Wells, County Somerset, England. The names of Cornelia del Boure and Johannes Boureman are recorded in the West Riding of Yorkshire in 1379. The name is of English origin, springing from the mighty boar hunter of old.

("Visitation of Somerset," p. 11. Bardsley: "Dictionary of English and Welsh Surnames." "Baltimore Sun," September 23, 1906.)

I. Major William Boarman was born in England in 1627, according to a deposition made by him in 1707, giving his age as eighty years at that time, and died in St. Mary's County, Maryland, May 16, 1709. His will was proved June 17, 1709. He came to Maryland as early as 1645, as a deposition in 1650 states that in 1645 "he was aboard a certain 'Pynnace' then riding in St. Inigoes Creek, the boat in command of Mr. Monroe." In 1661 he was commissioned captain of the St. Mary's County Militia, and in 1676 he was a major. When Charles County was formed from St. Mary's County, he appeared in the new division. In 1650, he entered rights for transporting himself into the Colony of Maryland, receiving thereby one hundred acres; in the same year he entered rights for the transportation of Sarah Sinley; in 1660 he claimed land for transporting Catharine Walter, Caleb Neale, Theophilus Aldridge and Elmore Langley; and the following year he requested land for bringing Francis Palmer and Roger Snell into the

GREER—GWYNNE

George Jerome Greer married, December 1, 1926, Gay Croom Gwynne.
(Gwynne VII.)

Children:

1. Gay Gwynne, born at Wichita Falls, Texas, September 12, 1927; attending the Hockaday School for Girls.
2. George Jerome, born at Dallas, Texas, November 24, 1931, died there January 2, 1933.

(Records in possession of the family.)

(THE GWYNNE LINE).

According to records in "Cavaliers and Pioneers," "Hugh Gwyn, Gent.," had granted to him in Virginia, August 10, 1642, one thousand acres of land, due by order of court and dated December 19, 1635, for the transportation of twenty persons to Virginia. "Hugh Gwyn, Gent.," was granted, January 17, 1642, "1,700 acres near the mouth of the Pyankatanke River. 200 acres of marsh, beginning at a sandy point upon Chisopeiake Bay, extending up Milford Haven Bay, to the narrow, bounded by a great bay called Stengrabay, being due east from the mouth of said river, etc., parallel to Rapahannocke Bay, and Southerly parallel to Chisopeiake Bay."

"Colonel Hugh Gwynn" was granted, February 26, 1653, two hundred acres in Lancaster County, Virginia, on the north side of "Pieantank River." "Colonel Hugh Gwin" was granted, December 6, 1652, "300 acres upon the west side of a tract called Gwins Island, being the surplusage of said Island, bounded southwest upon the Narrows, west opposite to mouth of Peanketank River, south upon Deep Creek which lyeth toward south side of said Island."

"Elizabeth Gwin" was granted, March 26, 1654, seven hundred acres in the Isle of Wight County, Virginia, "about two miles up the lower bay, on the west side, beginning at a small Island called Bennetts Park, adjoining land of Sam Jackson &c., running to Goose Hill Creek and to Seawards Creek. Due as Executrix of Hugh Gwin, who patented the land March 3, 1640."

In the "Virginia Magazine of History and Biography" it is stated that the decisions of the General Court of Virginia include one under date of July 9, 1640, in part, as follows:

Whereas Hugh Gwyn hath, by an order from this board, Brought back from Maryland three servants formerly run away from the said Gwyn . . .

Changes in county lines and in their component parishes in that part of Virginia where the Gwynne family lived are indicated in the following:

Gloucester is recognized as a county in 1652, when it was represented in the House of Burgesses by Colonel Hugh Gwinne and Francis Willis. No change took place until 1790, when Mathews county was cut off. The parishes in 1754 were Petsworth, Abingdon, Ware, and Kingston, the last being cut off with Mathews in 1790.

Other records of interest are:

Persons who Suffered by Bacon's Rebellion (1676) The Commissioners' Report:

Mr. Henry Whiting, Mr. Humphrey Gwyn, Great Losers by the Rebels both in their stocks & estates.

Mr. Richard Whitehead, Mr. Edmund Gwynne, Great suffered in Estate by Plundering and in person by the Rebels.

Rev. John Gwyn was minister of Ware parish in 1672, and of Abingdon in 1674 and 1680, both parishes being in Gloucester County, Virginia. According to the "Executive Journal of the Council of Colonial Virginia," April 25, 1701:

His Excy in Councill was pleased to nominate and appoint Sheriffs for ye sevl Counties in this his Majtis Colony & Dominion as followeth . . . for Gloucester County, John Gwin.

The 1704 "Glocester Rent Roll: A Rent Roll of Kingston Parish," includes the names of Thomas Peyton, who had 684 acres, and "Capt. Gwin," who had eleven hundred acres.

The July, 1909, issue of "William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine," edited by Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, under the head of "Historical and Genealogical Notes," the following account of the early generations of the Gwynn family appears:

Hugh Gwynn was an early settler in Charles River County (subsequently York) and in 1639 represented it in the House of Burgesses. He was a justice of York in 1641 and burgess in 1646. In 1642 he patented 1,700 acres at the mouth of Pyanketank river, and among his head-rights (was) . . . Mrs. Ann Gwynn . . . Col. Hugh Gwynn . . . probably died about 1654, when Elizabeth Gwynn patented 700 acres in the Isle of Wight County, as executrix of Hugh Gwynn, who had patented the same in 1640. Hugh Gwynn, doubtless his son, was vestryman of Kingston parish, Gloucester, in 1680. Probably another son was Rev. John Gwynn, a distinguished royalist minister of Ware parish, Gloucester County, who came to Virginia in the Cromwellian times. He had issue: Edmund Gwynn, who married Lucy Bernard. . . Edmund Gwynn made his will March 10, 1682, and names issue: (1) Lucy, who married Thomas Reade, and (2) John.

Humphrey and John Gwynn at a General Court held Sept. 30, 1681, in their own right and as attorney for Humphrey Stafford, petitioned for the administration of the estate of Colonel John Burnham, deceased, on the ground that they were his nearest kin. (Middlesex Records.)

In 1698-99 Mr. John Gwynn is mentioned in the Middlesex Records as having married Margaret, the relict of Mr. Francis Bridge, who died about 1678. . . The destruction of the records of Gloucester and Mathews prevents us from knowing much of John Gwynn, but it is very possible that he was the father of John Gwynn, who married, Feb. 25, 1790, Mildred Reade.

(Nell Marion Nugent: "Cavaliers and Pioneers," pp. 132, 141, 248, 263, 301. "Virginia Magazine of History and Biography," Vol. V, pp. 64, 67, 236; Vol. XVIII, p. 179. Rev. Wertenbaker: "The Planters of Colonial Virginia," pp. 183, 231-32. "William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine," Vol. XVIII, pp. 60-61.)

I. John Gwyn, as the name was now spelled, the earliest definitely known ancestor of the Gwynne family who settled in Fort Worth, Texas, married, in Virginia, February 25, 1720, Mildred Reade, probably the daughter of Benjamin Reade, of Gloucester (later Mathews) County, Virginia.

Children (possibly others):

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Humphrey , of whom further. | Elizabeth. |
| 2. (Possibly) William, married in Kingston parish, Gloucester County, Virginia, before 1755, | 3. (Possibly) Harry, married in Kingston parish, before 1766, Lucy. |

("William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine," 1st Series, Vol. XIV, p. 121; Vol. XVIII, p. 61.)

II. Humphrey Gwyn, son of John and Mildred (Reade) Gwyn, was born, probably in Gloucester County, Virginia, December 6 or 16, 1727, and died December 8, 1784, also recorded 1794. "Humphrey Gwyn" advertised five hundred acres of land on Gwyn's Island, in the "Virginia Gazette" of September 6, 1776. Gwyn's Island was in Mathews County.

A census of free and slave persons in Gloucester County (Kingston Parish, now Mathews County) in 1782-83, included the following:

	White	Black
John Gwyn	5	5
Humphrey Gwyn	1	4
Henry Gwyn	5	9
Robert Gwyn	5	4
Hugh Gwyn	3	9
James Gwyn	1	—
John Gwyn	1	—

According to records accepted by the Daughters of the American Revolution, 1911-1913:

Humphrey Gwynn (1727-94) served in the Light Dragoons under Col. Frederick Bland. He was born and died in Virginia. . . . married Frances Peyton . . . , and they had a son, Humphrey Peyton, Jr., who married Mary B. Lucas. The latter couple had a daughter, Martha, who married Thomas Jefferson Peyton.

Humphrey Gwyn married, in Kingston Parish, Gloucester County, Virginia, February 21, 1755, Frances Peyton, who died August 5, 1809, daughter of Thomas and Frances (Tabb) Peyton, of Gloucester County, Virginia.

Children, probably all born in Kingston Parish:

1. John, born March 27, 1756, died September 11, 1770; "John, son of Humphrey Gwyn, was drowned in Milford Haven, 1770." (Kingston Parish records.)
2. Frances, or Francis, born December 5, 1757.
3. Mildred, born November 23, 1759.
4. Thomas Peyton (1), of whom further.
5. Edmund, born August 17, 1763-64.
6. Martha Peyton, born February 2, 1766.
7. Humphrey, born February 9, 1769.
8. Lucy, born June 10, 1771.
9. Elizabeth Toye, born April 25, 1772.
10. Mary Tabb, born August 22, 1774; married Samuel Turner.

III. Thomas Peyton (1) Gwyn or Gwynne, son of Humphrey and Frances (Peyton) Gwyn, was born April 19, 1762, and died before 1810. It is evident that in 1798-1799 he was a resident of Prince Edward County, Virginia, where his son, Thomas Peyton, Jr., was born. No other records have been found.

Thomas Peyton (1) Gwyn or Gwynne married Ann, whose surname is not known. Children:

1. Frances Ann, born December 14, 1793; married, March 3, 1810, as his second wife, Hon. William Branch Giles. The following is an abstract of his biography in "Virginia 1492-1892":

William Branch Giles, born in Amelia County, Virginia, August 12, 1762; elected to the United States House of Representatives in 1790, reelected in 1800; succeeded W. C. Nicholas in the United States Senate in 1804, reelected in 1811; elected Governor of Virginia in 1826; died at his estate, "The Wigwam," in Amelia County, Virginia, December 4, 1830.

Mr. Giles married March 3, 1810, Miss Frances Ann Gwynn, and their son, Thomas T. (Giles), became a distinguished member of the Richmond Bar. Giles County, Virginia, formed in 1806, was named for Governor Giles.

The 1820 Federal Census for Amelia County, Virginia, includes William B. Giles as head of a family, or household, consisting of one male over forty-five (himself then aged fifty-seven); four males between 26 and 45; one male between 16 and 26; three males under 10; one female over 45; two females between 26 and 45.

(one his wife then aged 26); five females between 16 and 26, and six females under 10.

2. John, born June 15, 1794.

3. Thomas Peyton (2), of whom further.

IV. Major Thomas Peyton (2) Gwynne, son of Thomas Peyton (1) and Ann Gwynne, was born in Prince Edward County, Virginia, in 1798 or 1799, and died in the city of Norfolk, Virginia, February 26, 1861, and was buried in Hollywood Cemetery, Richmond, Virginia. Proof that he was a brother of the second wife of Governor William Branch Giles, is found in the following letter:

The Hon. JOHN CALHOUN,
Sec' Dept of War.

WIGWAM, February 8th, 1820.

SIR:

This letter will probably be presented to you by Mr. Thomas Peyton Gwynne, whom I beg to introduce to your acquaintance. Mr. Gwynne is just arrived at the age of twenty one years, and is desirous of entering the army. He is a brother of Mrs. Giles, and if you should think proper to give him a commission I trust he will do honor to the service.

Be pleased Sir, to accept my high consideration and personal regards.

(Signed) WM. B. GILES.

Details as to Major Gwynne's death and burial are found on the editorial pages of the "Richmond (Virginia) Enquirer" of March 1 and 4, 1861, and in the following two letters:

Headquarters Fort Monroe, Va.,

March 14th, 1861.

SIR:

In reply to your communication of the 12th inst, I have to inform you that I learned from Captain D. E. Farragut, U. S. Navy, that Major Thomas P. Gwynne of the 5th Infantry died at his residence in Norfolk, Va, on the 26th day of February last.

I am sir—

Very Respectfully, your obedient Serv't,

Lt. Col. L. Thomas,
Asst ad-Gen,
Washington, D. C.

J. DIMMICK.

COL. THOMAS.

DEAR SIR:

RICHMOND, VA, March 12, 1861.

Your note of the 8th inst to Col. Dimmick was handed me to day. Major Thomas Peyton Gwynne died in the city of Norfolk on the evening of the 26th of February, and was buried at Hollywood Cemetery in this city on February 28th.

Yours very respectfully,

L. Thomas,
Asst Ad-Gen.

A. D. TOWNES.

The following appears in the "Army and Navy Register," in which Major Gwynne's middle name is misprinted as "Page" instead of "Peyton":

Cadets admitted into Military Academy:

Gwynn, Thomas Page, Va., 1813.

Army Register, 1815-1879:

Gwynne, Thomas P. (born in Va., admitted from Va.).

2nd Lieut. 1st Infantry, 12 Dec., 1820. 1st Lieut., 31 Dec. 1824. Captain, March 4, 1833. Transferred to 8th Infantry, 7 July, 1838. Major 6th Infantry, 16 Feb, 1847. Transferred to 5th Infantry, 20 Feb, 1852. Died 26 Feb., 1861.

GWYNNE

According to the "Richmond Enquirer," March 1, 1861:

The remains of Col. Gwynn arrived in this city, from Norfolk, yesterday morning, accompanied by Company "F" of that city . . . commanded by Captain Bradford. . . . The remains were escorted to the Spotswood House where they remained until the afternoon. At 4 o'clock, detachments from the companies of the First Regiment, and from the Young Guard and Governor's Guard escorted the body to St. Paul's Church, where an impressive sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Minnegerode, after which the line of march was taken up for Hollywood Cemetery where the deceased was interred with the usual military honors. . . .

The following is taken, in part, from the same paper of March 4, 1861:

. . . . Major Gwynne was a Virginian, a native of Prince Edward County, as stated in a journal before us. He entered the Military Academy at West Point. . . . He entered the army as an infantry officer and passed through each grade, from second lieutenant to the position which he held at the time of his death. He served with distinction in the Black Hawk and Seminole wars and was second in command at the siege of Pueblo in the Mexican campaign. . . .

Maj. Gwynne's eyesight was bad during his sojourn in Mexico and since his return he has been unable to perform active duty. He has been continued on the list, however, in consideration of his important services, and has resided with his family in Norfolk, where he died. He leaves to his descendants the legacy of a good and gallant name.

In the 1860 Federal census Thomas Peyton Gwynne is recorded as follows:

Thomas P. Gwynn, Major U. S. Army, born Virginia, (Notation—Blind) age 55.
M. A.	"	born Virginia,	" 45.
T. Peyton	"	" Wisconsin,	" 23, P. O. Clerk.
Virginia	"	" Minnesota,	" 20.
Worth	"	" Florida,	" 17.
Branson	"	" Florida,	" 15.
Frederick	"	" Ohio,	" 12.
Frank	"	" New Jersey,	" 9.

His age as shown in the above record was either erroneously given or written by the census taker. According to the letter from Governor Giles, dated February 8, 1820, Mr. Gwynne had just reached twenty-one years of age. This would indicate that he was at least sixty-one years of age in 1860.

Thomas Peyton (2) Gwynne married, probably in or before 1836, a lady listed as "M. A. Gwynn," who was born in Virginia and "aged 45" in 1860.

Children:

1. T. Peyton, born in Wisconsin about 1837; was a post office clerk in 1860.
2. Francis Key, died in Belmont, Amelia County, Virginia, May 8, 1841, aged two years and forty-eight days.
3. Virginia, born in Minnesota about 1840, was living in 1860.
4. Worth, born in Florida about 1843, was living in 1860.
5. Branson, born in Florida about 1845, was living in 1860.
6. Frederick Key, of whom further.
7. Frank, born in New Jersey about 1851, was living in 1860.

(Horace Edwin Hayden: "Virginia Genealogies," p. 469. Papers in Connection with Major Thomas Peyton Gwynne, Archives Building, Washington, District of Columbia. "Richmond, Virginia, Enquirer," issues of March 1, and March 4, 1861. Thomas H. S. Hamersley: "Complete Army and Navy Register of the United States of America from 1776 to 1887," pp. 210, 481. "United States Census, 1860, Norfolk City, Virginia," p. 273.)

V. Frederick Key Gwynne, son of Major Thomas Peyton (2) Gwynne, was born in Ohio, April 19, 1847, and died at Fort Worth, Texas, November 19, 1900. The Federal census of 1860 shows "Frederick Gwynn" aged twelve years, born in Ohio, and was residing in the family of "Thomas P. Gwynn, Major U. S. Army," in the city of Norfolk, Virginia. A family record says he was born in Elizabeth, New Jersey, but according to the above census the State of his birth was Ohio, while the birth of his brother, Frank, three years later, was in the State of New Jersey.

According to the birth places of his children, Frederick Key Gwynne was located for a time at San Antonio, Texas; Parsons, Kansas, and eventually became a resident of Fort Worth, Texas, between April, 1881, and 1885. In the 1885 directory of the latter city he was listed as a traveling salesman, residing at 614 Houston Street. In the 1904 directory, Esther Gwynne, widow of F. K. Gwynne, is shown as residing at 1535 Pruitt Street, and the next year, 1905, "Ettie E. Gwynn, widow of F. K. Gwynn," resided at 915 Cannon Street, Fort Worth. Records in possession of his descendants state he was a wholesale grocer and also served in the Confederate Army in the War Between the States. He was a member of the Episcopal Church and a Democrat.

Frederick Key Gwynne married, November 5, 1877, Esther Elizabeth Dashiell, who was born at St. Francisville, Louisiana, February 19, 1858, daughter of Major Luther Fairfax and Emily Sophie (Hersey) Dashiell and a descendant of the Rev. George Dashiell, of Somerset County, Maryland.

Children of Frederick Key and Esther Elizabeth (Dashiell) Gwynne:

1. Peyton Fairfax, of whom further.
2. Albert Prescott, born at Parsons, Kansas, January 13, 1880.
3. Etta Mildred, born at Parsons, Kansas, April 23, 1881, died in infancy.
4. Emilie, or Emily Dashiell, born at Fort Worth, Texas, November 18, 1886, died in infancy.
5. Frederick Dashiell, born at Fort Worth, Texas, August 3, 1889.

("United States Census, 1860, Norfolk City, Virginia," p. 273. "Fort Worth, Texas, Directories," 1885; 1904; 1905. Benjamin J. Dashiell: "Dashiell Family Records," Vol. II, pp. 381, 469. Family records.)

VI. Peyton Fairfax Gwynne, son of Frederick Key and Esther Elizabeth (Dashiell) Gwynne, was born at San Antonio, Texas, August 24, 1878. He attended the public schools at Fort Worth, Texas, and began his business career in the general offices of the Rock Island Railway Company, at Fort Worth. In 1901, he changed his position to the general offices of the International & Great Northern Railway Company, Palestine, Texas. His next venture was in the wholesale grocery business and he connected with the Davidson-Pearlstone Wholesale Grocery Company in Palestine, where he remained until 1905. The next enterprise was in the same line of industry, and from 1905 until 1912 he was associated with N. Negro & Company, of Dallas, Texas, and from 1912 to 1918 his affiliations were with Carroll, Brough, Robinson, Gates Wholesale Grocery Company of Wichita Falls, Texas. From 1918 to 1919 Mr. Gwynne was secretary-treasurer of the Wichita Falls Refining Company, at Iowa Park, Texas; was secretary-treasurer of the Texhoma Oil & Refining Company, Wichita Falls, from 1919 to 1920, and, in 1920, he organized the Iowa Park Producing & Refining Company, at Iowa Park, of which organization he was vice-president and general manager. In 1929 he became a partner of Gwynn & Overbey, oil producers, at Wichita Falls. In addition, Mr. Gwynne was chairman of the board of directors of the Goodner Wholesale Grocery Company of Wichita Falls. His death occurred in May, 1944.

Peyton Fairfax Gwynne married, at Fort Worth, Texas, September 26, 1903, Forrest Rose Croom, daughter of John Lafayette and Gay Harrold (Powell) Croom.

They were the parents of:

1. Gay Croom, of whom further.

(Benjamin J. Dashiell: "Dashiell Family Records," Vol. II, p. 469. Family records.)

II. Colonel John Henry Broocks, son of General Travis Green and Elizabeth Ann (Morris) Broocks, was born near Columbia, Tennessee, October 12, 1829, and died in San Augustine County, Texas, April 16, 1901. As a child he accompanied his parents, in 1838, in their removal to Texas. In 1846 he served in the Mexican War under General Taylor in Captain O. M. Wheeler's company. Throughout the War Between the States he fought in the Confederate Army, first as captain of a company he had raised in San Augustine County, Texas, in 1861, and later as major and colonel. He was a planter in San Augustine County.

ANDREW BROWN WYNN

In May 1932 ANDREW BROWN WYNN, his wife, Jesse Ellis Wynn and son ANDREW BROWN WYNN, JR (better known as JACK), came to Culloden, Ga, Mr Wynn's birthplace to Cochran, where he and his brother, GEORGE WYNN of Macon, had bought the Miller Five and Ten Cent Stores, located at Cochran and Eastman. These stores were then known as WYNN'S STORES, INC.

Three years later Mr. Wynn became sole owner of the stores and then as the years progressed, he opened up other stores in Middle Georgia section. This organization was known as WYNN'S STORES. Mr Wynn's office, warehouse and home, WYNNWOOD are in Cochran.

At the time of his death, 12 February 1953 he had acquired eleven stores and was an outstanding leader in church, business and civic affairs. He was a man of many talents, a resourceful person, a serious and able student of literature and the Bible, a teacher of the Men's Bible Class, a member of the Board of Stewards, of which he was past chairman.

He was chairman of the Planning and Building Committee of the new educational building of the First Methodist Church, when he passed away at the age of 59.

He was a member of the Rotary Club of which he was past president. He was elected as the first president of the Middle Georgia Entertainment Association, later known as the Mutual Concert Association.

MR WYNN was also one of the directors of the Cook Banking Company. He was one of the original investors in the L and H Shirt company, one of Cochran's leading industries.

Mr. Wynn received his formal education at the Georgia School of Technology in Atlanta. He and his family travelled extensively both in this country, England and the continent.

His character was clean, his ideals were of the highest type. His services were sought after and freely given. He was devoted to his family and was known as a happy Christian with a 'spring in his step and a song in his heart'.

HISTORY OF PULASKI & BLECKLEY COUNTIES 1808-1953

Hawkinsville DAR

CHARLES WILLIAM MORGAN WYNNE was born on 20 July 1824 in Pulaski Co east of the Hawkinsville area. He was graduated from a Macon University after which he returned home to teach school, along with other duties connected with the family's slave plantation.

During his 53 years of school work, he taught 4 generations of family connections which included his wife before marriage, his daughter LAURA ELIZABETH (POOLE), his grandson, WILLIAM W POOLE, and his great granddaughter, CHRISTINE POOLE (ANDERSON).

In 1850 Prof. WYNNE was married to Mary Simmons of Pulaski Co and Mr W W Poole has in his possession today a letter written 103 yrs ago by PROF. WYNNE to his mother in Wilkinson Co rejoicing over their first born, LANA ELIZABETH, the 'finest, prettiest Wynne in all creation', he wrote. This letter is as legible now as it was when written.

Prof Wynne was a devout Methodist. When John Rawls gave an acre lot to the Hawkinsville Methodist Church in 1857 on which to build Mr Wynne was named as one of the trustees in the deed.

The following items in the Cochran Note Book, then edited by W. W. Poole in the Dispatch and News under dates of March 1899 and July 1900 reveals further highlights of Prof. Wynne's activities at that time.

"Cochran claims to have the oldest school teacher in the State of Ga in the person of PROFESSOR C W M WYNNE, who began his career as a teacher in 1846 continuing the work up until this date. He moved to Cochran during 1873 and opened the first school ever taught in this place, then called Dychesboro. Twenty pupils were enrolled which soon increased to 75.

"Since teaching in Cochran he has survived 35 different literary teachers and there are but few families in Cochran but that Prof. Wynne has taught some of their number.

During State School Commissioner Bradwell's term of office he informed Mr Wynne that he was the oldest school teacher in Georgia in point of service.

"The descendants of Prof. C W M Wynne which includes the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th generations tendered him a birthday reception in honor of his 76th birthday, Friday, 20 July, 1900 at his academy. His children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren were all present as follows: B J Wynne & family; Mr & Mrs W H Harrell; J M Wynne & fami N L Taylor & family; Mr & Mrs T H Wynne; Mr & Mrs W L Poole; J E Reeves & family. (this is all of family rest were friends, etc)

He retired from his life's education work the past year."

Memorial Record of Alabama , Vol I

DR JAMES J WINN

Among the prominent medical men of southern Alabama, DR JAMES WINN has but few rivals and certainly no superiors in Barbour county, where his eminent abilities long since placed him at the head of the profession, a distinction he still enjoys. DR WINN is descended from Revolutionary stock, both his grandfather and great-grandfather on the PATERNAL side having served with gallantry throughout the seven years struggle for American independence. At one ~~the~~ time they were both captured and condemned to suffer death by hanging, but were rescued just as the nooses had been placed around their necks at the place of execution. JAMES J WINN, father of the doctor, was a son of MAJOR JOHN WINN, of Revolutionary fame whose ancestors came to America from Wales.

JAMES J WINN married Miss C M Johnson of DeKalb Co, Ga and became the father of seven children, the eldest of whom,

1. L J WINN - for some years a well known lawyer of Atlanta, Ga, is deceased
2. MARY E WINN - widow of B F Chaffee
3. DR JAMES J WINN
4. PROF. P P WINN, president of Female College at Talladega, Ala
5. REV S K WINN - Presbyterian minister at Petersburg, Va
6. KATY L WINN - wife of William Kirkpatrick
7. MARIE L WINN - wife of G B Scott residing at Decatur, Ga.

This family were mostly raised in DeKalb Co, Ga, where the father died on the 16th of April, 1892; and the mother is still living at a good old age.

DR JAMES J WINN was born in Monroe Co, Ga 9 June 1842 and enjoyed the advantage of an academic education. He began the study of medicine under the tutorship of Dr N S Lidell and afterward entered the Atlanta Medical College, where he made such rapid and thorough progress in his studies that he was graduated in the class of 1860 at the remarkably early age of 17½ years - - - - a record unprecedented in the history of that organization. Receiving his degree, the doctor at once located for the practice of his chosen calling at CLAYTON, but 6 mos later enlisted in 'Barbour Grays', a military company which went to Virginia as a part of the 5th Alabama Volunteer in which he served as a private for 12 months. Then passed an examination for ASST Surgeon and assigned to 45th Georgia Volunteers and in 3 months at the petition of regimental officers, was promoted to full surgeon and in charge of regiment. He remained with the regiment until the surrender at Appomattox and then returned to his practice at Clayton.

He was instrumental in organizing Clayton Banking Co and President of several other such organizations. He is a Democrat and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

WINN

From a mass of material relating to the Winns of the Southern States only that in which there is an indicated connection with "Minor Winn" lines has been considered in this genealogy.

The "Winns" of Fluvanna County, Virginia, included a "Minor," son of Hezekiah Winn and his wife, Christiana Bowles.¹

A family of Winns in Tazewell County, founded by William Winn, included "Minor" of Burke's Garden. The name is traditional in the ancestry of Thomas Wynn of Lunenburg. Dr. D. Watson Winn (deceased), quoting from a letter to this compiler, wrote: "The Minor Winn name is very interesting and elusive, and no one seems to know very much about it. The name runs through my line coming out here and there." (Frederica, St. Simon's Island, Georgia. There is said to be somewhere recorded a "Minor Winn" of Eden, "Northern Neck," Virginia, 1710, of whom this writer has not actual proof.

¹Sketch of the Winns, Rev. Benj. C. Ancell ("Midland Virginian," Palmyra, Virginia). "Winn and Jarvis Family Tree," Elizabeth J. Winn, Baltimore, Maryland. Letter from an old descendant—Georgia source.

Beginning with the first of the name of authentic record in Virginia known to this compiler, Minor Winn, of Caroline County, appears in 1733 and 1734. By the loss of all but the "order" books and a few fragmentary wills and administrations of that old county, we are unable to place Minor Winn between the years above and the time he bought land in Orange County, 1737.

"It is ordered that James Atkins pay Minor Winn 30 pounds of tobacco for one day's attendance for hund? Arnold. At a court for Caroline County, April 12, 1733." Order Book 1732-1740 (Part 1, p. 72).

June 13, 1734, "on petition of Minor Winn against the collectors of this county, judgment is granted the same Winn without an attorney's fee and costs" (Order Book 1732-40, p. 149).

Caroline County records show that the Will of Richard Winn, dated Dec. 9, 1748, was presented by Benjamin Winn, executor (p 123). This item is significant because of the same family names found in records of succeeding dates and places.

Orange County, Virginia.

"This Indenture made the 25th day of June, 1737, between Francis Thornton, Gentleman, of St. Marie's Parish in Caroline County within the Colony of Virginia of the one part and Minor Winn of the Parish of St. Margaret's² in the County and Colony aforesaid, of the other part; witnesseth that the said Frances Thornton, Gentleman, for and in consideration of the sum of five shillings current money of Virginia to him in hand paid³ Minor Winn, his heirs and assignees forever, all that parcel of land containing 202 acres, lying in the great fork of Rappahannock River on Potator Run, it being one moiety of a tract of land which formerly belonged to Joseph Cooper." Later (p. 43) this is confirmed by another of similar tenor. Both deeds are witnessed by Francis Thornton, J. J. Wood and James Connor. (Book 2, Deeds, p. 42.)

Henry Haines of Caroline County, planter, sells to "Benjamin Winn of Orange County, planter, for five shillings, 400 acres in Orange which was granted to said Henry Haines by —, bearing date March 26, 1739, on northwest branch of Errotty's Creek, paying the rent for one year of Indian corn on Lady Day next." (Mary, the wife of Henry Haines, signs.) Nov. 25, 1741. (Deed Book 6, p. 301.)

Benjamin Winn and Ann, his wife, of County of Caroline, to William Brockman, the younger, of Orange, land granted to Henry Haines of Caroline County and by him leased and released to Benj. Winn, May 28, 1767. (Deed Book 14, p. 181.)

Mrs. Ann Winn, wife of Benj. Winn, acknowledges above deed April 28, 1768 (pp. 286-7), Deeds Orange County.

²The parish records of St. Margaret's have perished, and with them probably a register of Minor and related Winns.

Minor Winn (1), known as "Minor Winn of Fauquier," moved through Orange County to Fauquier as proved by the following land transactions.

"Col. Richard Henry Lee to Minor Winn of the County of Prince William: In consideration of the yearly rents and covenants herein-after reserved, mentioned and contained on the part of the said Minor Winn, John Winn, his sons and Dorothy, the wife of John, and Minor Winn, the son of John Winn to be paid, done and performed, both devised, leased, and to farm better, 220 acres of land to the said Lee in Fauquier County, south side great road leading to Ashby's Gap road (bounding) Capt. William Edmunds, to main tract of Richard H. Lee, on the old road where Captain Edmunds' corners at Lawson's Branch, paying on Oct. 1 of each year 11 lb. 8 shillings Virginia money and land tax and quit rents. Keep under a sufficient fence 100 apple trees, and also build a dwelling house 16 feet square, a tobacco house 24 feet long by 2 feet wide, and work no more than at the rate of 3 titables and an overseer for every 100 acres, and keep the said tenements in good and sufficient repair." Etc.

James Craig, Jos. Bullitt, John Aniss, John Blackwell, witnesses.
May 24, 1764. (Book 2, Deeds, pp. 129-131-230), Fauquier County, Virginia.

Oct. 10, 1764. "Col. Richard H. Lee of Westmoreland County to Minor Winn of Prince William: leases to Minor Winn, the son of John and Dorothy Winn, 228 land in Fauquier."

SOUTHERN LINEAGES

The foregoing lease was voided in an instrument witnessed by Joseph Blackwell, Bennett Price, Stewart Black, recorded March 22, 1765, and released to Minor Winn (pp. 232-35). Book, Fauquier County. "By the Will of Minor Winn (Sr.) this property was passed on to Minor, Jr., in 1778, showing that some time during this period of years Minor Winn had acquired title to it."

January 10, 1814, John W. Winn and Isham O'Bannon, executors of the Will of Minor Winn, Jr., deed this property to William H. Hampton—a total of 532 acres—showing that Minor Winn, Jr., had added to the estate.

About 1855, Mr. Samuel Field bought the estate from a Mr. Hutchison who had possessed himself of it at some previous date not known to me. He named the property "Graystone," and lived there until his death and it passed into the hands of his son-in-law and family and is now occupied by a grandson of Mr. Field, by the name of Field Burgess. Mrs. George H. Field, Fieldhurst, The Plains, Fauquier County, Virginia. (Letter to Mr. Wayne Smith.)

There are two dwelling houses on the property, one called the "Old House," apparently following the lease in 1764, and was the home of Minor Winn, Sr., for his lifetime; the other is a stone house, also, built by Minor Winn, Jr., in 1807, in which he was living when he died in 1813. During the occupancy of the estate by the Winns it was called the 'Rock Hill' farm or 'Rock Hill'." (Authority: Mr. Wayne Smith, Moscow, Idaho.)

The Winns were farmers the land records show, but Minor, Sr., and his son, John, engaged in another business, as these items disclose. "John Winn is granted a license to keep Ordinary at the courthouse, he having executed and acknowledged bond, according to law." Sept., 1763, Minutes (Book 2, p. 211), Fauquier County.

July, 1766, "Minor Winn is allowed liberty to repair and use the old courthouse during the pleasure of the Court." (Minute Book 1764-68, p. 208.)

John Winn, son of Minor Winn, Sr., is preparing to emigrate in 1765, for at that time a deed is written as follows: "I, John Winn, of the County of Fauquier, planter, for 8000 pounds current money paid me by Minor Winn, Sr., in Fauquier." Sale of negroes and household effects. Bill of Sale is recorded March 22, 1863-5? (Book 2, p. 230), Fauquier County. Alex Cunningham, James Robinson, Bennet Rice, witnesses.

Minor Winn and Margaret, his wife, of Leeds Parish, Fauquier, deed James Winn of same tract out of a larger tract which Thomas Bartlett purchased of Judson Coolidge and sold to the said Minor Winn, and is bounded on west side by Spring Branch, forks of the river, Whitewood Branch, Fishback's line, April 26, 1772. (Deed IX, p. 17.) Minor Winn sells this tract to John Wright, April 27, 1772. (Deeds IV, pp. 21-23.)

April 27, 1772, Minor Winn and wife, Margaret, sold land in northern half of Fauquier County to Capt. John Wright, Jr.³

RECORDS OF THIRTEEN FAMILIES

John Wright and wife, Ann, sell this land to Peter Grant,³ Sept. 21, 1774, the description as follows: "On little river called "Whitewood" which John Wright, Jr., purchased of Minor Winn—from Whitewood, Jesse's Branch. Mrs. Anne Wright relinquishes dower. (Deed Book VI, pp. 52-55.) Fauquier County.

✓ John Winn, son of Minor, Sr., married, first, Dorothea Wright, presumably a sister of above John Wright. They were evidently children of John Wright, born about 1685, and wife, Dorothy, who purchased (1723) 100 acres of Col. Henry Lee between Neapsco Creek and Powell's Run. John Wright was the son of Major Francis Wright and his wife, Ann Washington, daughter of Col. John Washington. Lower Machodick, Westmoreland County. (Fauquier Hist. Bulletin, p. 377; Tyler's Quar. LV., p. 210, et.)

✓ Peter Grant married Susannah, daughter of Minor Winn, Sr.

✓ Minor Winn made his Will July 1, 1775, which is recorded in Will Book 1 (p. 343). He names his wife, Margaret; sons: Minor, Richard, William, James, John; daughters: Margaret Johnson (wife of Moses Johnson), Mary Smith, Elizabeth, Susannah Grant, granddaughter Martha Ann Winn.

"To son, Minor Winn, my great Bible. Instrument added to the Will: Purchased land of Mr. Martin Pickett lying on south side of South River—part of tract formerly belonging to Holtclaw—right in this land to son, Minor Winn; and whereas I have in partnership with my son, Minor Winn, erected a still house on the said Minor's land and furnished the same with stills and the necessary utensils for carrying on the distilling business—profits to be divided between said Margaret Winn and son, Minor, to keep half of what they shall be appraised." Etc. July 5, 1778. Minor M. Winn, Peter Grant, James Winn, Hannah Winn, witnesses. Fauquier County.

The legal proceedings in which Minor Winn, Sr., and his sons engaged, throw interesting light on their occupations, acquisitiveness in business, and intermarriage with families of local and nearby communities. These facts are not disclosed by those who wrote the first sketches of Minor Winn and who appear to have had only partial knowledge of this common ancestor of numerous present-day Americans. We must not be shocked that this revered patriarch distributed in his family his profits from a still. As a member of a distinguished old Virginia family expresses it: "We must neither hide nor blush at the mistakes of our ancestors. Probably they did very well on an average when compared with others of their own time. I don't embellish his faults but I'd rather know them than not if I have to evaluate the whole family and its contribution to the making of America." (Mr. Wayne Smith, Moscow, Idaho.)

As the Fauquier County records (court) show us the probable date of John Winn's removal to South Carolina, 1765, they also reveal that William Winn, son of Minor Winn, Sr., left Fauquier

The Winns of Fairfax and Loudoun Counties, Virginia, at least related to, if not brothers of ✓ Minor, Sr., of Fauquier County, settled in Fayette County, Kentucky, and scattered to other counties in that state, leaving numerous descendants. County court records there furnish many wills and deeds of settlers of the name of Winn (Wynn). Of these, only those items that seem to connect with ✓ Minor Winn of Fauquier County, are assembled herein:

It is quite evident that other children and grandchildren of Minor Winn followed John, William and Richard (sons of Minor Winn, Sr.) farther south by way of Lunenburg and Halifax Counties, Virginia, where others of the name (perhaps kinsmen) were already settled.

One of the daughters of Minor Winn, Sr., either Mary or Elizabeth, married Benjamin Smith. Both parents seem to have died before 1778, when their orphans are living in Halifax County, Virginia.

Minor Winn, of Fauquier, guardian for Smith's orphans, buys land for them there, according to the record below:

✓ Minor Winn of Fauquier County, from Robert Wooding; 35 acres on Bannister River (Book 11, Deeds, pp. 66-67), Halifax County.

June 15, 1778, Minor Winn buys land on Bannister River for heirs of Benjamin Smith from heirs of Peter Wood (Book 1, Deeds, p. 69), Halifax County.

Account of Minor Winn, guardian of Smith's orphans (p. 227).

To expense of caring for Margaret Smith and Minor Winn Smith in Fauquier, it being their father's desire; to finding of Minor Winn Smith, one pair of shoes; to finding of Weathers Smith, one pair of shoes; to finding of a horse and showing him to carry Minor Winn Smith into Fauquier County; for my trouble to delivering the children to the appointed place; to paying Thomas Younger for nursing of Weathers Smith; for finding of a horse for Weathers Smith to go to Loudoun County; to bearing his expenses there; to paid Leonard Keeling for teaching of Susannah Smith to sing; to finding John Smith of shoes in ye year of 1770; to one negro and two horses in moving the children; 210 paid Chas. Chimis for schooling of John Smith.

By Moses Johnson in part for rents. (Page 229, Book 1, July Court.) June 19, 1778.

→ This record indicates that Benjamin Smith died in Halifax; that Minor Winn came down, got the orphans, and took them back to Fauquier or Loudoun County.

In Lunenburg County forenames in the Winn branches are duplicated and suggest kinship or common origin with Minor Winn of Fauquier. Though the name "Minor" does not occur in the list of Thomas Winn's children, there is a traditional use of it in that branch.

Records below are submitted only in support of that theory. They, of course, do not belong in the direct line of Minor Winn of Fauquier County.

The following were the executors: John M. and James Carter. The following were witnesses: George Whitted, William Adams, Samuel McCleskey.

¹⁰Thomas Winn left many descendants throughout the Deep South. One of these was James Osgood Wynn, Atlanta, Georgia (deceased 1925).

TAZEWELL COUNTY, VIRGINIA, WINNS

"There was a line of Winns in Tazewell County, Virginia,¹¹ in 1815 and two of them came to Georgia. They had a cousin, Minor Winn. These Winns wrote my grandfather about themselves. Some years ago I think I found in Macon, Georgia, their last descendants, etc." D. Watson Winn, Christ Church, St. James Parish, Fredrica, Georgia (St. Simon's Island).

¹¹The line referred to by Dr. Winn, now deceased, in the foregoing is sketched in the "History of Tazewell County and Southwest Virginia" by Pendleton (pp. 429-432). William Winn, founder of this line, left a Will, 1809. He leaves to "son, Minor," land lying in Burke's Garden.

WINNS OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Of the three sons of Minor Winn, Sr., of Fauquier County, who emigrated to South Carolina, John Winn seems to have arrived first. From family sources the year of his arrival is 1765, the same in which he "sold out" to his father in Virginia. The first record of his land purchased in South Carolina is dated 1769. From then until 1778 he is granted land in Craven County ten times. (See land office, Columbia.)

William Winn gets one large acreage (800 acres) on Moon's Creek, Wateree River, May 23, 1773. (Book 33, p. 116), South Carolina land office.

These grants to land in Camden District number fourteen and cover fourteen pages between the years 1785-86 (Book E, pp. 553-565).

On January 24, 1785, he is granted 640 acres on both sides Reedy River, bounded by Thomas Jenkins.

Minor and John Winn acquire land jointly on Cedar Creek, Broad River, 1786. Camden District (Book 11, p. 201).

John, son of Minor Winn of Fauquier County, had, besides his grants from the State, titles to many acres in Fairfield County, South Carolina. In 1785-1786, he is acquiring land there (Book A, pp. 61, 230, 356; Book B, pp. 34, 158).

On November 3, 1790, he is one of the appraisers of Col. Joseph Kirkland's estate. (Wills, Book 1, p. 9), Winnsboro.

John Winn's deed is witnessed by Obed Kirkland, August 9, 1794 (Book 1, p. 167).

Soon after he arrived from Fauquier County, Virginia, John Winn is one of His Majesty's justices for Craven County (Oct. 22, 1769). Recorded Oct. 29, 1794 (Book 1, p. 234).

A tract conveyed to John Winn and others in Fairfield, 1784, is conveyed by John Winn, Jr., Sheriff, to McMaster. Signed by W. Winn, 1794. Deed from John Winn, Sheriff of Fairfield County, to Richard Winn, on Little River, Fairfield.

No Will of John Winn, Sr., of his two wives, Dorothea or Penelope, has been found in Winnsboro.

The name Richard Francis Winn, son of Col. John Winn, is affixed to Fairfield deeds, June 3, 1793. He married Prudence Lamar (see Winn Chart, old letter).

Richard Winn,¹² youngest son of "Minor Winn, Sr." of Fauquier County, received in 1785 land in Camden District on Catawba River. November 14, 1786, John Winn deeds to Richard Winn "the tract containing 98 acres, a part of original tract of 300 acres," Fairfield County. The town of Winnsboro was named in honor of Richard Winn, designated henceforth in all legal documents as "Gen. Richard." In 1789 he is executor of the estate of Thomas Baker at Winnsboro, Fairfield County (Book 1, p. 44).

The names of Gen. Richard, Col. John and John Winn, Esq., occur in the sales account of Samuel Wilson's estate. Winnsboro (Book 1, p. 88).

Col. Winn, Maj. Winn, Gen. Winn, list of officers of regiment against all of whom John Milling brought account. They returned word that they were all excepted. Winnsboro, South Carolina (Book 1, p. 121).

"To sundries: John Winn, Jr., Col. John Winn, Maj. Winn, James Winn, Gen. Richard Winn, John Winn."

December 25, 1803, Richard Winn of Winnsboro: deed to land "in town of Winnsboro, being a corner lot fronting on Washington Street and Zion Street, known and marked as the original place of the said town, by lot 79." Sale to John Porter. Signed in presence of Benj. Winn, D. Evans.

"I, Richard Winn, of District of Fairfield." (Original Deed VV, Sumter MSS. Draper Coll. (Vol. 1, pp. 103-4).

¹²The hill on which Gen. Richard Winn formerly lived is now owned by Senator Kitchen and Mr. George B. McMasters. The Winns gave the land on which Mt. Zion School was built. This, the second oldest chartered school (1777), was surrounded by the camp of Cornwallis when he occupied Winnsboro during the War of the Revolution, 1782. (From sketch by Mr. McMaster.)

1789, William Winn, Gentleman, and Hon. Richard Winn, Esq. Power of attorney to Brother John Winn of Fairfield County to receive of Minor Winn of Virginia one of the executors of our late honored father, Minor Winn, deceased. Our sister, Susannah, etc." (Book A, p. 63), Fairfield County.

Though the above item indicates that the brothers were absent from Winnsboro at the time, Richard Winn is there at the time of the following transaction: "Maj. Hampton as per Richard Winn, eleven pounds and forty-three dollars same which will be credited to you." M. Winn.

Richard Winn, Esq., April 5, 1791. Draper Coll., Sumter MSS. VV (p. 76).

Richard Winn moved to a five thousand-acre tract of land on Duck River, Maury County, Tennessee, and on a part of this tract died, December 8, 1818. His brilliant career as an officer of the Revolution and later in the United States Congress is of public record.

William Winn was living in Craven County in 1775 when he gave his son-in-law, Matthew Smith, of Fauquier County, Virginia, power of attorney. He does not figure so actively in land transactions in South Carolina as did his brothers. Three grants from the State covering "land on Enoree" are mentioned in official records.

William and M. Winn are witnesses for Nathaniel Smith, Sept. 6, 1794 (Book 1, p. 186), Fairfield County.

In 1789, William Winn appoints Minor Winn of Fauquier County his power of attorney to receive his share of estate of his father, Minor Winn, of Virginia. "He is buried in Winnsboro beside our grandmother," states the author of an old letter.

William Winn and his wife, Rose Hampton, had a younger son, Minor Winn, who married Matilda Bedford, Bedford County, Tennessee.

Minor Winn and Matilda Bedford Winn had son, Zedrick Winn, married — Burkaut.

Issue:

Larkin D. Winn, married Sophia A. Looney.

Issue:

Columbus Marion Winn of Norman, Oklahoma.

Authority: Mr. W. Wayne Smith.

Minor Winn, son of Col. John (grandson of Minor, Sr.), who received large land grants from the State, was also active in local land transactions. He was there in 1789, and was deeded land frequently from 1792 to 1794. Robt. Austin deeds him land in Fairfield County, 1786 (Book A, p. 279).

One deed is to land originally granted to Edmond Smith, 1794, "and other land conveyed to Minor Winn, 1792," is signed by Mary Winn (Book 1, p. 187).

Minor Winn married Mary,¹³ daughter of David Reid Evans. To his father-in-law he sold land Dec. 12, 1794 (Book 1, p. 261), Fairfield County.

Another deed made by Minor Winn is witnessed by R. F. Winn, John Winn, Jr., February 22, 1794 (Book 1, p. 166).

In September, 1794, Minor Winn and James Craig appoint Wade Hampton power of attorney to sell land. (Book 1, p. 182) Fairfield County. The father, John, and his son, Minor, appear to have extended their investments to the upper districts of South Carolina, record of which is found in deeds below:

DEEDS

South Carolina, Spartanburg County.

Minor Winn, Esq., of Fairfield County, to John Ford, plantation containing 500 acres, situated at the line when originally granted Craven County, but now called Spartanburg—on a branch of Tyger—which tract of land was formerly the property of Robert Wells and sold to Minor Winn, Esq., 1785. May 26, 1791 (Book 13, page 435).

Minor Winn of Winnsboro, Gentleman, 100 acres of land granted to John Parker; by him sold to Joseph Kirkland, and by him sold to Minor Winn, 1787, on waters of Tyger River and bounded northeast and southeast by John Ford's land and northwest by Porcher's and Lawson's land, which tract includes where the Georgia and Blackstock roads pass each other. This deed to William Wills. Abner Benson, witness. (Book 44, p. 191).

Joseph Kirkland to Minor Winn, 1808, March 1. Joseph Kirkland and Minor Winn, Esq., both of the District of Camden, 1,000 acres in Craven County in the branches of Tyger River, bounded by Porcher's, Lawson's and John Ford's land, originally conveyed to John Parker by him to Kirkland, 1773; also another tract of 288 acres in fork of Enoree and Tyger to Western Indian's land originally sold to Williamson—one tract, 300 acres, originally granted to John Hope and conveyed to Joseph Kirkland. Witnessed in Fairfield District, 1807. (Book L, p. 183).

¹²The Will of Mary Winn is indexed as recorded in Book VI, Fairfield County. No record of the time or place of death of Minor Winn, her husband (son of John Winn) of the large land holdings.

Members of this South Carolina family ended their days in other sections of the South, already settled, or as the country opened up to inhabitants. To Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee, as pioneers went men of the name Winn and they henceforth belonged to the history of their adopted homes.

From a family source comes a sketch of the Winnsboro Winns. Much is said, upon good authority¹³, to be inaccurate and because of personal comment, has been slightly deleted.

✓"Minor Winn, our great grandfather, came from Wales to Virginia, where he married an Irish woman, Margaret O'Connor. His family consisted, as far as I have certain knowledge, of Minor and John (our grandfather) ✓James, ✓Thomas, ✓William and ✓Richard, his youngest son (Gen. Winn). of Smith. Their descendants now reside in the upper district of South Carolina, that is, the Smiths. Mr. West removed to Kentucky with Thomas and James Winn and probably they were amongst the early settlers of that country.

Of their families I know but little, only that Thomas had three daughters. One married a Mr. Johnson and was the mother of Dr. James C. Johnson of Louisville, Kentucky. Another married Mr. Roberts, the first husband of Mrs. General Jackson. They were all widows when I last heard of them in 1843. Minor Winn remarried in Virginia. He had a large family. John Winn, our grandfather, was married in Alexandria, Virgin'a, to Dorothea Wright, only child and heiress of Captain Francis Wright (he was a sea captain). Our grandmother was an orphan. She was taken by her father's brother to live with him and was in Alexandria when she ran off with John Winn and married. She was not fifteen years of age. Her friends never forgave her.

Our grandfather left Virginia for South Carolina in 1765. His children were: Anna Minor (2), James, John (2), Richard (2), Francis, Wright and Mary, first wife's children. His wife d'ed whilst Cornwallis was quartered in Winnsboro. He married, second, Penelope Kirkland in, as well as I can remember, having often seen the date, 1784. His children by her were: Joseph, Peter, Daniel, Harriet, Margaret, Martha, Dav'd Jefferson, Robert, Obed, John. (Many others died in infancy).

✓Anna married Samuel McKinney, a lieutenant in Morgan's Rifle Brigade.

✓Mary married Obed Kirkland of Fairfield.

✓Minor married Mary Evans.

✓Richard Francis married Prudence Lamar.

✓James married Emily Evans.

✓John married Elizabeth Evans.

✓Wright married Jennie Payne.

✓Anna had two sons, Ben and Joshua. Ben married Ione Harris and had one son, John. ✓Joshua died in Savannah, 1814. Our father's family you know all about. ✓James Winn died without children. ✓John had one child, Eliza, who married Micajah Pickett and went to Mississippi. ✓R. F. Winn had five children: Mary, Susan, John, Jacob and Prudence. ✓Mary married Thomas Lyon. Her children and Susan's you know about, and all the rest of them. ✓Jacob married in Wetumpka and soon after died. ✓Wright Winn left no lawful children. ✓Mary Kirkland went to Louisiana. She had three children. I heard they all died near New Orleans. That ends our father's own brothers and sisters.

Of our grandfather's second family: Joseph married his cousin, Miss West, of Mississippi. He left two daughters. His family removed to Texas. ✓Peter married in Tennessee. Removed to Texas before the Revolution. Fought through the War and lost all of his children but three. Finally settled in St. Augustine where he died a few years ago. His son, Colonel John Winn, still resides there.

✓ Daniel Winn went into the French settlement in Louisiana, became a Frenchman, fiddled and danced his life away. He never married.

✓ Harriet Winn married a wealthy planter in Louisiana, a native of Virginia. She was a widow with one child. Her brother, Robert, lived with her—unmarried. When I heard of them last Peggy married (so Peter wrote me) a poor man in Mississippi and had nine children. The rest, I believe, are all dead.

✓ General Richard Winn married Priscilla McKinney. His children were Minor (3), Margaret, Christina, John, Benjamin, William, Thomas, Richard, Samuel, Mary and Priscilla.

✓ Minor never married. He went to Tennessee to study law with General Jackson and died at his house.

✓ John married Miss Taylor on Little River. Had several children. He moved to Alabama, Dallas County.

✓ Ben, you know all about.

✓ Tom married a young lady named Covington in North Carolina.

✓ William is dead. He never married.

✓ General Winn obtained both Tom and Will commissions of lieutenant in U. S. Army in 1812.

✓ Richard died, also unmarried.

✓ Sam wrote the truth about his sister's marriage, except making a doctor of —. He married a Miss McKinzie of Baldwin County, Georgia. General William died in Tennessee and so did Colonel John Winn.

Look here, my brother—I forgot to say anything about my grandfather's brother, William. I never saw him though he is buried beside our grandmother in Winnsboro. ✓ He married Rosa Hampton, aunt of old Wade Hampton. His daughter, Rosa, married Mr. Wroughton, afterwards Governor of Kentucky. ✓ Mary married Robert Stark of Columbia. ✓ Margaret married John Hampton, brother of Wade. ✓ Sarah married Doctor John Hughes.

My best love to Sarah and the children.

I am, my dear George, as always,

YOUR SISTER.

¹⁰This old letter was written to Mr. George Winn, brother to Mr. James J. Winn, father of Mrs. George Scott and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Decatur, Georgia, now deceased, he being born in Winnsboro, South Carolina. The name of "your sister," author of the letter to her brother, George, is unknown to the compiler of this genealogy. ✓ Mr. George Winn and Mr. James J. Winn and "your sister" were children of Minor Winn (son of Col. John) and his wife, of Fairfield County, South Carolina, Winnsboro.

The positive assertion made by descendants that Lettice Winn, who married John Bearden, was the sister of Gen. Richard Winn, therefore daughter of Minor Winn, Sr., of Fauquier County, Virginia, is not yet verified by exhaustive research and analysis. Clues, however, to prove kinship, and origin in the same locality, are strong. The Beardens, Winns, and Blassingames have been traced through piecemeal records, to Caroline County, Virginia. ✓ Lettice Bearden was, before her marriage, surnamed Winn. She was born about 1726 and was possibly another daughter of Minor Winn, Sr.¹¹, of Fauquier County, unnamed in his Will (as was often the case). The Name Minor Winn was perpetuated by her descendants.

¹¹I wish we might see "my great Bible" left to "my son, Minor Winn," by Minor Winn, Sr., of Virginia, in his Will written there, July 1, 1775, in the hope that it would throw light on the traditional daughter, Lettice Winn Bearden. ✓ Minor M. Winn who fell heir to the Bible, lived and died in Fauquier County, Virginia. If the Bible is in possession, today, of any of the descendants of this old Virginia family, it is hoped that inscriptions from it may eventually reach a number of eager descendants who are trying to clear the elusive "Minor Winn" line.

The compiler is greatly indebted to Miss Minnie L. Smith, now deceased, of Glenn Springs, South Carolina, for knowledge imparted by letter, upon which the study of the Winn and related families was begun. These letters are of such importance that they are given to readers, believing that it is no breach of faith to do so.

"Your letters received, and I assure you it will give me pleasure to reply to your questions. Now my grandmother was Mourning Bearden, daughter of John and Lettice Bearden. She was born June 15, 1763, as recorded in my grandfather, William Smith's Bible. ✓ Lettice Gowen was my grandmother's sister. My grandmother was so annoyed by the Tories, in her husband's absence, that she had to leave home and live with her sister, Lettice Gowen, during the latter years of the War.

"The Beardens were 'Loyalists' and bitter enemies of my grandfather; therefore all intercourse between the Smiths and Beardens ceased for a long time. My father said that the Winns and Beardens emigrated together to South Carolina.

✓ Landrum's data was obtained from Cousin Mary Smith, wife of William J. Smith, and myself. Cousin Mary died several years ago. There is a small village in the upper end of the county (Spartanburg) called Gowensville; named, I presume, for the Gowens. My brother knows some of the Gowens who claim to be related to the Smiths and Winns." Etc. ✓ Minnie L. Smith, July 21, 1919.

"There is, of course, between the Smiths and Millers a family connection, as you are a descendant of Mrs. Lettice Gowen, who was my great aunt, my grandmother's sister.

✓ "Dr. J. L. M. Curry, a descendant of John Winn, wrote a sketch of the family which you may obtain through the Virginia Historical Society. ✓ Minor Winn of Fauquier County left five sons and three daughters. ✓ John, with his brothers, William and Richard, emigrated to South Carolina and settled in Fairfield District. ✓ Mr. Fitzhugh McMasters' address, delivered at Mount Zion Academy, Winnsboro, will tell you of Gen. Richard and Col. John Winn of the American Army. Mr. McMasters says there were three brothers, Richard, John and Minor, but Dr. Curry says that Minor died in Virginia. I know that William came to South Carolina, for he married Rosa Hampton, aunt of Gen. Wade Hampton." July 15, 1919.

"I have become so interested in the Winn genealogy since reading the Wills that I'd like to know more about our ancestors. The letter signed 'Your Sister,' written to George Winn, says of Minor Winn's three daughters: 'One married Cato West, the other two, Smiths,' whose descendants live in the upper part of South Carolina. Now I think this was a mistake, etc. To the younger members of the Winn family, the Beardens were not known—possibly for the reason that they were Tories. Two of the Beardens, Richard and William, however, were members of my grandfather's company.

"I am quite positive of my great grandmother being a sister of Gen. Richard Winn, for I have heard my father, uncles, and older cousins repeatedly say that she was. A leaf torn out of an old Bible and sent to the pension office recording the birth and certificate of Mourning Bearden, gives the date of her birth, June 15, 1763. She and Grandfather must have married while he was with Sumter in the upper part of the state, not long after the fall of Charleston, 1779 or 1780. Their first child was born in 1781. She had no child when she fled to Lettice Gowen for protection. The Tories had taken her riding horse. She went to Fergerson's Army, identified it, and was permitted to have it. She rode alone to her sister's.

"The Blassingames and Smiths must be related. I can't tell how, but I do know that the families have always been intimate. Capt. John Blassingame was one of my best friends. He died several years ago.

"Brother Minor says the Gowens whom he knew were old men and have died since he left Spartanburg. He says—using his expression—'they were square in business dealings.' A descendant by the name of Page told him he had named his son Minor Winn. You see they still cling to the name 'Winn.' I knew that I had Smith and Winn relatives in Virginia, but had never met them." Minnie L. Smith, Glenn Springs, South Carolina.

With the increasing discovery of both printed and manuscript material, it is hoped that some skillful genealogist may find the solution of the traditional Bearden-Winn family connection.

from FORTSON book

Charles John Fortson married second 6-3-1908 at WYNNDALE, Norman Community, Wilkes Co, Ga, Agnes Lizzelle Walton (1-12-1876-1-21-1931). Agnes was born in Wilkes Co, Ga, dau of John Howard Walton (d 2-19-1899) and Agnes Lizzelle Wooten (d 7-15-1876); granddaughter of John Scott Walton and Mary Ann Irvine. It is unfortunate that a letter written to Agnes' sister MINNIE WALTON WYNN, by Octavia Walton, daughter of George Walton II, son of George Walton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was inadvertently destroyed by Minnie's husband, W R WYNN, since it showed the relationship between John Scott Walton and George Walton. Through Mary Ann Irvine, John Howard Walton is descended from William Irvine, one of seven brothers who came to America between 1721 and 1730; William married Ann Craig, who is buried in Raloo near Mounthil, Larne, Ireland. William's son Christopher was Captain of a Virginia company in the Revolutionary War; in 1796 Christopher moved to Wilkes Co, Ga and settled the old Irvine plantation in Wilkes. His wife was LOUISA TUCKER of Virginia, and their son Isiah Tucker Irvine married Isabella Lee Bankston, and their dau Mary Ann married John Scott Walton.

WYNNDALE was the home of Agnes' sister MINNIE WALTON and her husband WILLIAM ROBERT WYNN. After Charles and Agnes married they continued to live there until the plantation was sold in 1919 and WILLIAM & MINNIE WYNN moved to Washington, Ga. Charles and Agnes went with them and the two couples lived together their entire married lives. Charles traveled over the state, buying and selling lumber until he suffered a paralytic stroke. WILLIAM R WYNN had his left leg removed at the hip when he was about 75 and spent the rest of his life on crutches. MINNIE and Agnes became the main support of the two families; they were excellent cooks and managers and served meals to 'boarders'. After MINNIE's death, Agnes had the care of an invalid husband and brother-in-law and her 3 children until her death in 1931. In a letter about his marriage to Agnes, Charles described her to his son: 'She is good, pretty and gentle, a very lovable woman . . . I am very fortunate. . . I think now I will be happy and contented.' Charles and Agnes had only a few years before he was stricken with a series of strokes; Agnes, 20 yrs his junior, preceded him in death by 4 yrs.

WYNNDALE was located in the northern section of Wilkes Co about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile NW of the place where Chickasaw Creek crosses the present (1970) Ga Highway 17. The large colonial home burned several years ago. Captain Walton and several members of his family are buried in a family cemetery located near the old homeplace. Several of the graves, enclosed by an iron fence in poor repair, are marked.

page 162: On land now owned by a pulpwood company:

CHARLES D SEGGUS (descendant of GEORGE WYNN) went with the author to this cemetery. Seggus says the first time he saw it he was with his uncle C E SUTTON, who did a lot of research on the WYNN FAMILY, and from all records he found this land is on part of the settlement where ELIJAH CLARK built his 1st home and fort in 1773 on Clark Creek near Long Creek and Broad River. The cellar of the old WYNN home is very near these graves and some of the timbers could still be seen in the cellar.

Buried here:

Creek with neighbor Alexander.

Jethro⁵ Darden married Ellender Perkins (probably in Georgia). Daughter of Peter and Sarah Perkins, who came to Georgia and the Wrightsboro Colony with the original Quaker group in 1768. (Information from Mrs. Helen Phillips Seebach of Louisville, Georgia--Compiler.) He made a will in Monroe County, Georgia (Will Book A, page 110), but it is not dated, probated July 3, 1837, signed J. Darden (not Jethro or Jethro). The will names Wilson Darden and Stephen Darden as executors. Bequeathed $500.00 to "Wilson Darden in trust for his daughter Lucetta Ponder" and after her death, if any remains, it "is to revert to and become a part of my estate -----." He also bequeathed $300.00 to the children of his son Jonathan Darden, deceased, "to be equally divided between them", and $350.00 to the children of James Hill "to be equally divided between them." After payment of all just debts and the above mentioned legacies he bequeathed "unto my beloved wife, Ellender Darden, the remainder and residue of all my property both real and personal." After her death the remainder of his estate to be sold and "divided equally between Wilson Darden, Stephen Darden, Elizabeth W. -----, Mary Rhodes, Ann Darden, and John Weaver Darden."

Based on his will and other sources of information the children of Jethro⁵ Darden and Ellender (Perkins) Darden were:

1. Lucetta Ponder. Married ----Ponder, may be Daniel Ponder who moved to Monroe County, Georgia about 1823. Their children are said to have moved to Louisiana. (Darden Family History, page 175).
2. Wilson Darden. Married Frances ----and had at least Ellender Darden and Ann Darden. (Darden Family History, page 175).
3. Stephen Darden. Married Frances ----. Made will Dec. 16, 1844, probated Jan. 13, 1845. Mentions wife Frances who was to receive property for life; nephew John H. W. Darden; Ellender Darden and Ann Darden, children of Wilson and Frances Darden; Elizur Wynn and William Wynn, children of Lemuel and Ann (Darden) Wynn. (Darden Family History, page 175.)
4. Elizabeth Darden. Married Irby Wynne (Winn) March 4, 1823. Mentioned in her father's will.
5. Mary Darden. Married ---Rhodes and so named in her father's will.
6. Ann Darden. Married Lemuel Wynn. They had at least Elizur Wynn and William Wynn as mentioned in the will of their uncle Stephen Darden.
7. John Weaver Darden. Name of wife unknown, had at least a son, John H. W. Darden as mentioned in the will of his uncle Stephen Darden.

8. Martha Darden. Date of birth unknown. Married James Hill December 28, 1815. Date of death unknown, however, her death probably occurred prior to the marriage of James Hill and Sarah (Sally) Darden July 30, 1824. The will of Jethro Darden, probated July 3, 1837, mentions Nancy ---, Eliza Hill, Frances Hill, Mary Ann Hill, William Hill, James Washington Hill, and Henry Hill children of James Hill. As Sarah (Sally) Darden was the daughter of Jethro Darden, Sr., (see later), and married James Hill, July 30, 1824, it could be that some of James Hill's children mentioned immediately above were not all the children of his marriage to Martha Darden.
9. Jonathan Darden. Born March 30, 1795. Married "Patsy" Martha Stone, January 13, 1822.
10. Sarah (Sally) Darden. The minutes of the Williams Creek Baptist Church, Warren County, Georgia, record that "Sally Darden, daughter of Jethro Darden" was received into membership "by experience" November 18, 1809. This Sally Darden could not have been the daughter of Jethro Darden, Jr., as he did not marry until May 9, 1815. She married James Hill July 30, 1824.
11. Luroney Darden. Married Green Darden May 24, 1826. The minutes of the Williams Creek Baptist Church also record that Luroney Darden, "daughter of Jethro Darden," was received into membership October 16, 1824. She too could not have been the daughter of Jethro Darden, Jr., as he and Eady Darden were not married until May 9, 1815, as stated above. If so, she would not have been more than ten years of age on May 24, 1826, when she and Green Darden were married. It is very evident that Luroney was the daughter of Jethro Darden, Sr.

203. Jacob Kehely 200010-30100-0

Jacob was of Jackson County when he bought land there June 8, 1799 from Macajah Benge and William Hopkins. Christopher Kehely (see No. 915 below, also pension papers of Christopher Kehela, N.C., service, and Polly, W 3693) was on the tax list of Rowan County, N.C., in 1759. The name of Chris. Kehely is found in the published census of Edgefield District, S.C., in 1790.

204. Jacob Martin 121211-10101-0 (See No. 184)

205. John Winn 000100-10100-1

John Winn's orphans, and Elijah, Lemuel and Richard Winn were listed in the 1805 Jackson lottery; Abner Winn (No. 266) was in Cochran's district in the 1807 lottery. Also enumerated in 1820 were Nuby (?) (No. 267) and Lemuel (No. 1018). Enumerated in Gwinnett County in 1820 were John (No. 675), Francis (No. 46) and Elisha Winn (No. 254). The latter was one of the first justices of the Inferior Court (1820) and he was a leading citizen for some years. His daughter, Philadelphia, married William Maltbie in 1817. The latter, son of Capt. Jonathan Maltbie of the U. S. Navy during the Revolution, was born in Fairfield, Conn., April 9, 1783, moved to Georgia in 1815, was a merchant and county official, and died Sept. 24, 1865. Elisha's name is found in Jackson County as early as March 9, 1807 (Deed Bookey, p. 602). Elisha was born 1777, died 1842 in Gwinnett County; buried with him is Judith Winn (1788-1846). Another Lemuel (Wynn) was enumerated 1820 in Jasper County, Ga., and a Lemuel was living in 1827 in Lincoln County, where John Winn was enumerated in 1820. Among others in the state in 1820 were Thomas and Richard (see Jackson County 1805) in Hall County; Hamilton in Habersham County; Benjamin in Elbert County, Hinchey Winn in Clarke County, and various others over the state; as well as John Wynn Sr. and Jr. in Madison County; and a number of others in various counties.

James, a Revolutionary veteran, was living in Allen's district of Jackson County in 1827 and drew land in Troup County, granted Feb. 8, 1832. William Blanks was enumerated 1820 in Greene County, and there in 1827 were Nancy, widow of a veteran, as well as Ezekiel Blancks. Arthur Blank was in Telfair County in 1820.

I have extensive information on their descendants. This line ties in with my husband's Edwards line. The Wynne (Col. FAMILY RECORDS

THE WINN FAMILY OF HUDSON (NOTTINGHAM WEST), N. H.

By WALTER H. MCINTOSH, of Topsfield, Mass.

The Winn Family Records here given appeared in a large Bible published at New York in 1813 by "Evert Duyckinck, John Tiebout, G. & R. Waite, and Websters & Skinners of Albany", George Long, Printer. The original records are in the possession of the writer.

The Winn family came to Hudson, N. H. (then Nottingham West) about the time of Nottingham's incorporation in 1733. Nathan Winn's grandfather, the settler in the town, was Joseph Winn, son of Joseph and Martha (Blodgett), born in Woburn, Mass., 9 September 1698 (Webster Hudson, N. H., 1913, p. 120). Joseph, the settler, married Elsebeth [!] whose surname has not been determined, and had a son Nathan, born in Nottingham West 15 October 1738 (Town Records, vol. 2, p. 169, State Library, Concord, N. H.). This Nathan Winn and Ruth Hadley had a son Nathan, born there 5 Oct. 1764 (ibid., vol. 3, p. 380, 452). It is the latter Nathan whose family is recorded in the Bible.

This Nathan's wife was Elizabeth Kelley, daughter of Capt. Joseph and Sarah (Lovewell) Kelley, born 23 August 1768 (ibid., vol. 3, p. 467). Her father served in the Revolution, and operated a ferry across the Merrimack River at Hudson, between 1776 and 1796. Her mother, Sarah Lovewell, was a daughter of Zaccheus and Esther Lovewell. Zaccheus Lovewell was a colonel in the French and Indian Wars, and a brother of the famous Capt. John Lovewell, who was killed by the Indians while on a scalp-hunting expedition in 1725.

In a number of cases the Bible record does not agree with the town records or cemetery records as recorded by the D.A.R. These discrepancies are noted in notes at the end.

We have rearranged the records for clearness, and have deleted duplicate entries.

SIXTEENTH GENERATION.

COL. JOHN STITH, of Charles City Co., the first of the name in Virginia, was granted 500 acres of land in 1663. He revolted with Bacon in 1676, and was High Sheriff of his county in 1691. He had issue:

1. WILLIAM STITH, of Charles City Co., who, in 1688, married Mary, daughter of William Randolph, of "Turkey Island." (see above page 115) Children: 1. REV. WILLIAM STITH, b. 1689, d. 1755, President of William and Mary College, and Historian of Virginia, who m. Judith Randolph, daughter of Thomas Randolph, of "Tuckahoe," and had, i. Elizabeth, ii. Judith, iii. Polly Stith, of Williamsburg, who d. s. p. 2. CAPT. JOHN STITH, of Charles City Co., who married Mary, daughter of Tarlton Fleming,* of "Rock Castle," and his wife, Mary Page, of "Rosewell," and had issue, i. Judith Stith, m. John Maynard, of Halifax Co., (see previous excursus, and Goode Genealogy, No. 735). 3. MARY STITH, who married Rev. William Dawson, of William and Mary College, Commissary to the Bishop of London, &c., and had issue, i. A son, who m. Miss Johnson, of North Carolina, and had son Hon. William Johnson Dawson, M. C., ii. William, member of the first House of Representatives in Virginia.

2. DRURY STITH, who married Susannah, daughter of Launcelot Bathurst, who came to Virginia about 1670, and granddaughter of Sir Edward Bathurst of Lechdale, England, issue: 1. DRURY STITH, of Brunswick Co. who m. Eliz. Buckner; children 1. GRIFFIN STITH of Northumberland Co., m. Mary Blakey 1743, and had a, Catherine, b, Eliz. Buckner, c, John Buckner, d, Mary Blakey, e, Griffin, f, Drury, g, William, h, Susannah, m. Christopher Johnson, i, Lucy, m. Mark M. Pringle, k, Janet. 2. BUCKNER STITH, of "Rocksbury," and others.

3. ANNE STITH, who married, 1681, ROBERT BOLLING, of "Kippax," or "Farmingtondale," whose first wife was Jane Rolfe, granddaughter of Pocahontas. The descendants of the Bolling-Stith marriage are numerous. The first generation was as follows: 1. ROBERT BOLLING, of Bollingbrook, b. 1682, d. 1749, m. 1706, Anne Cocke, and had nine children: one of his grandsons, Jack Bolling, m. JINNY GOODE, (see Goode Genealogy, No. 65); 2. STITH BOLLING, b. 1686; 3. EDWARD BOLLING, b. 1687; 4. ANNE BOLLING, b. 1690, m. Mr. Wynne; 5. DRURY BOLLING, of "Kippax," b. 1695, his only child, Frances, b. 1724, d. 1774, m. Theodrick Bland, and was granddaughter to John Randolph of "Roanoke," and the Tuckers, (see Goode Genealogy, pp. 55 and 114); 6. THOMAS, b. 1697; 7. AGNES, 1700, m. Capt. Richard Kennon, (for descendants, see Bristol Parish, p. 182).

A record of the descendants of Robert Bolling, of Bollingbrook (3-1) is given

*THE FLEMINGS. The founder of the historic Fleming family of Scotland, is said to have come thither from Flanders, in the reign of David I, but the first of the name from whom descent can be traced was Sir David Fleming, who was made Sheriff of Dunbarton by Alexander III. Twelfth in descent from Sir David Fleming was Sir Thomas Fleming, second son of John 6th Lord Fleming, who was created Earl of Wigton by James I, in 1606. Sir Thomas Fleming married a Miss Tarleton, of an ancient English family, of which was also the transient British Colonel Banastre Tarleton, of the American Revolution, and emigrated to Virginia about 1740, settling first at Jamestown and subsequently in New Kent. He had issue, three sons: 1. Tarleton, of "Rock Castle," who married a Miss Bates, of Williamsburg, from which family the Hon. Edward Bates, of Missouri was descended; 2. John; 3. Charles. The Tarleton Fleming of the text, whose daughter Mary was the wife of Captain John Stith, was presumably the third son of Tarleton and — Bates Fleming. The Flemings have intermarried with many of the most prominent families of Virginia. See article in Richmond Standard.

tion of Independence: Col. John McDowell, Col. William Campbell, were distinguished officers of the Revolution.

His mother, Jane Parks McDowell, was a typical McDowell woman; she was tall, graceful, with an attractive manner and full of energy and spirit. She was born Feb. 10, 1805, and died July 5, 1886. She was married to Moses Neely of Mecklenburg County, N. C., 1825. He was a man of great energy and integrity. From this union there were born nine children.

In 1863 his father moved with his family to Madison County, Tenn. Mr. Neely died in Memphis, Jan. 20, 1901. He was a man of fine mentality, of unusual physical development, was tall, handsome and endowed with indomitable energy. In 1860 he married Miss Frances Blocker, of a prominent Mississippi family. Five children survive them.

In the year 1856 he came to Memphis and organized the mercantile firm of Goyer & Neely, and in 1885 he organized the mercantile firm of Brooks, Neely & Co., of which he was the acknowledged head. The firm was composed of himself, S. H. Brooks and H. M. Neely. It was successful from the start and became one of the richest and most widely known in the South. It went into voluntary liquidation in the year 1900, all its members retiring from active business with fine estates.

Mr. Neely was also largely interested in coal and iron mines in Alabama, planting in the Mississippi River bottom and other industrial enterprises. He was President of the Continental National Bank and Bluff City Insurance Company.

He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, in temper equable, and in association with his family always patient, kind and liberal; with his acquaintances kind and courteous. He was eminent for his great common sense and so ripe in judgment and experience that his advice was often sought by those who knew him. He was always optimistic, fond of anecdote, and possessed an interminable flow of good humor. It may be said of him that when living he made no enemies and lost no friends, and in dying, among varied associations he left vacancies difficult to be filled.

ANCESTANTS OF HUGH AND MARGARET IRWIN McDOWELL AND THEIR CONNECTIONS.

ROBERT I. McDOWELL, son of Hugh and Margaret Irwin McDowell, was a man of wealth and an elder in the Presbyterian Church at Sycamore Creek and Unity Church, Lincoln, N. C. He was a member of the North Carolina Legislature and a business man of capability and great success. He married Rebecca Brevard, who was daughter of J. Franklin Brevard, a son of Capt. A SHORT ACCOUNT OF THE GWYN FAMILY WRITTEN BY RANSOM GWYN,
WARREN COUNTY TENN. SEPT 10TH 1851, IN WHICH HE SAYS WM. H. HUGGINS, OF MATHEWS COUNTY VA. FURNISHED HIM WITH MOST OF THE EARLY INFORMATION.

SOME PERSONS BY THIS NAME LEFT THEIR NATIVE COUNTRY AND LANDED AT JAMESTOWN VA. IN THE YEAR 1610, IN 1611 ONE OF THEM WENT TO EXPLORE THE COAST OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY AND HAPPENED TO STOP ON A SMALL ISLAND AT THE MOUTH OF THE PIANKATANK RIVER, WHICH FLOWS THROUGH THAT PORTION OF VIRGINIA (NOW MATHEWS COUNTY) WHILE THERE ADMIRING THE BEAUTY AND FERTILITY OF THE SOIL, HE SAW A LOVELY FEMALE ENTER THE WATER ALONE AND START FOR THE ISLAND, BUT THE DISTANCE BEING TOO GREAT, SHE COULD NOT REACH THE LAND. MR. GWYNN SEEING HER ABOUT TO SINK PLUNGED IN AND BROUGHT HER SAFELY TO THE LAND. HE QUESTIONED
HER AS TO WHO SHE WAS AND WHAT SHE WAS DOING THERE ALONE, SHE REPLIED THAT SHE WAS THE DAUGHTER OF THE GREAT CHIEF (SUPPOSEDLY CHIEF OF THE PIANKATANK TRIBE, ALTHOUGH, SOME AUTHORS SAY IT WAS POCAHONTAS)
AND I CAME HERE TO WORSHIP THE GREAT SPIRIT OF MY FATHERS, BUT SIR YOU HAVE SAVED MY LIFE AND FOR THIS ACT OF BRAVERY, IN THE NAME OF MY FATHER THE " KING OF THIS COUNTRY " I MAKE THIS ISLAND YOURS.
IT WAS THENCE CALLED GWYNN'S ISLAND, AND THE BODY OF WATER
SEPARATING IT FROM THE MAIN LAND ON THE SOUTH WAS CALLED MILFORD HAVEN
AFTER THE MILFORD HAVEN IN WALES, HENCE WE LEARN THAT MR GWYNN WAS OF WELSH ORIGIN. THE ISLAND CONTAINS ABOUT 2000 ACRES OF LAND STILL VERY FERTILE AND WELL TIMBERED, WELL WATERED AND HIGHLY CULTIVATED BY ABOUT TWO HUNDRED PEOPLE, ABOUT 150 OF WHICH ARE SLAVES.
THOUGH THIS NAME IS NOW EXTINCT ON THE ISLAND.

THE FIRST OF WHOM WE HAVE ANY PARTICULAR ACCOUNT OF IS HUGH GWYN , PROBABLY A SON OF THE ONE WHOM THE ISLAND WAS GIVEN TO.

(BANCROFTS HISTORY OF VA. GIVES NAME OF HUGH GWYN REPRESENTING THE COUNTY OF GLOUCESTER, (NOW GLOUCESTER, YORK, MIDDLESEX AND MATHEWS COUNTIES) IN THE HOUSE OF BURGESSES IN RICHMOND VA 1652 TO 1690, AND A COPY OF A GRANT FROM CHARLES II OF ENGLAND TO GWYNNS ISLAND BEARING DATE OF 1660 NOW ON RECORD IN RICHMOND VA" -))
V.G.H.

THE NEXT OF WHOM WE HAVE RECORD OF IS " JACK" GWYN A SON OF HUGH GWYN HE WAS BORN ABOUT THE YEAR 1680, HE HAD A SON NAMED HUGH, BORN ABOUT 1710 AND A DAUGHTER WHOSE NAME IS UNKNOWN.

ONE DAY MR. JACK GWYN WENT TO THE SETTLEMENT TO PURCHASE SOME NECESSARIES AND WHEN HE WAS RETURNING TO THE ISLAND HE FOUND A LITTLE INFANT IN HIS PATH, AND ON LOOKING AROUND FOR HUMAN VESTIGE HE SAW A LITTLE NOTE PINNED TO ITS CLOTHING ON WHICH WAS WRITTEN
" STRANGER PLEASE TAKE CARE OF THIS CHILD A WRETCHED MOTHER IS COMPELLED TO THUS EXPOSE HIM. HE IS OF GOOD FAMILY AND HONORABLE BIRTH! THE SYMPATHY OF MR GWYN WAS AROUSED AND AFTER LOOKING ALL AROUND TO SEE IF ANYONE IN CONCEALMENT WAS WATCHING HIS MOVEMENTS HE TOOK UP THE LITTLE FOUNDLING AND CARRIED HIM HOME. HIS LITTLE CHILDREN WERE MUCH PLEASED WITH THE LITTLE FELLOW AND CALLED HIM " BROTHER". THEY NAMED HIM " GIPSOM" , (SUPPOSEDLY HE HAD BEEN STOLEN BY GYBSIES AND LEFT THERE V.G.H)

MANY WERE THEIR YOUTHFUL SPORTS, OFTEN DID THEY WANDER THROUGH THE THICK TREES AND VINES AND STROLL ALONG THE SHORES OF THEIR LOVELY ISLAND.

THEY LOVED TO SEE THE STORM CLOUDS ARISE AND LISTEN TO THE WILD
MUSIC OF THE MOUNTAIN WAVES AS THEY CHASED ONE ^{PL} ANOTHER ^{EFF} LIKE SO MANY GENERATIONS AND LOST THEMSELVES IN THE DISTANCE, ^{ING} AND ^{UR} AFTER THE STORM HAD PASSED AWAY AND THE BAY GONE TO REST THEY WOULD COME OUT FROM THEIR ROCK SHELTER AND TAKING UP THE LARGE CONK SHELLS THAT WHITENED THE BEACH
THEY WOULD PLACE THEM TO THEIR EARS AND THINK THEY WOULD HEAR THE STORM
AS IT WAS SPENDING ITS FURY MANY MILES AWAY, STILL ECHOING THERE.
YOUTHFUL DAYS ARE ALWAYS PLEASANT, BUT SURELY DOUBLY SO UNDER SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES AS THESE. THEY PASSED AWAY LIKE A FLYING DREAM AND THE STERNER REALITIES OF LIFE ALONE TAUGHT THEM THIS WORLD WAS NOT A PARADISE.

THIS SON HUGH WENT OUT AMONG THE DAUGHTERS OF THE MAINLAND AND MARRIED
A MISS PEYTON. GYPSOM TOO WENT OUT TO SEARCH BUT FOUND HE COULD NOT LOVE ANYONE, BUT HER WHOM HE HAD BEEN CALLING "SISTER". FOR A LONG TIME HE COULD NOT TELL HER OF IT. THEY HAD BEEN MOST FAMILIAR, BUT AS SOON AS THEY BEGAN TO THINK OF LOVE THEY BECAME RESERVED "GYPSOM WAS AFRAID TO MENTION THE SUBJECT AND SHE WAS AFRAID HE WOULD NOT".

BUT AT LAST IN SOME WAY EACH FOUND OUT THE OTHERS FEELINGS.

THE OLD MAN HAD NO OBJECTIONS AND GYPSOM AND HIS "ADOPTED SISTER" MARRIED. THEIR DESCENDANTS ARE STILL LIVING, SOME OF THE MOST RESPECTED FAMILIES OF MATHEWS COUNTY VA.

^{RICHARD & WALTER}
HUGH GWYN 11 WHO WAS BORN ABOUT 1710 HAD TWO SONS AND A DAUGHTER WHOSE NAME IS NOT KNOWN, BY HIS FIRST WIFE.

HE MARRIED AGAIN A MISS LUCY REED, AND LEFT A DAUGHTER FRANCES, AND TWO SONS JOHN AND JAMES. HE DIED IN 1757 ABOUT THE BEGINNING OF THE FRENCH WAR HIS NAME CAN STILL BE READ ON A BRICK IN THE CHIMNEY OF HIS OLD MANSION GWYNNVILLE, WRITTEN WITH HIS OWN HAND.

in about 1760 his eldest son Richard married Sarah

ISLAND IN 1772 HE JOURNEYED WEST STOPPED A WHILE IN PITTSYLVANIA COUNTY VA "(DANVILLE) , NOT LIKING THAT HE CONTINUED TO SURRY COUNTY N. C.
AND PURCHASED A FARM AT SKULL CAMP. STILL DISSATISFIED HE MOVED 20 MILES SOUTH ON THE YADSHIRE RIVER AND PURCHASED A LARGE TRACTS OF LAND FOR A SMALL HORSE . THIS WAS IN THE COUNTY OF WILKES, THIS WAS COVERED WITH GRASS AND WILD PEA VINES AFFORDING THE RICHEST OF PASTURES FOR STOCK THUS SURROUNDED WITH PROSPERITY ON EVERY SIDE HE WAS LIVING A MOST HAPPY LIFE BUT IT WAS DESTINED TO SOON COME TO AN END FOR THE STORY OF BRITISH OPPRESSION HAD REACHED HIS EARS. HE HEARD HIS BRETHERN WERE BATTLING FOR FREEDOM AND HE RESOLVED TO GO. LEAVING HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN HE VOLUNTEERED AND JOINED THE ARMY OF S.C.
HE WAS ENGAGED IN TWO OR THREE BATTLES BUT TAKING THE YELLOW FEVER HE WAS SENT HOME, WHEN DEATH CAME AND GATHERED HIM TO HIS FATHERS.
HIS WIDOW WAS NOW LEFT IN A SAD CONDITION IN A STRANGE COUNTRY FAR AWAY FROM RELATIVES AND SURROUNDED BY TORIES AND INDIANS WHO WERE HOSTILE
ON ACCOUNT OF THE WHIGGISH PRINCIPLES OF HER HUSBAND.
THE FEATHER BEDS WERE SEIZED HAD HOLES CUT IN ONE END THEN THEY WOULD MOUNT THEIR PONIES AND STREW THE FEATHERS ALONG THE ROAD.
ETC & C & C. (QUITE A LOT OF INDIGNITIES LEFT OUT)
BUT AT LAST THE DANGEROUS TIMES OF THE REVOLUTION PASSED BY AND PEACE AND PROSPERITY RETURNED. FOR SO OUTRAGEOUS AND NOTORIOUS HAD BECOME THE ACTS OF THE TORIES , THAT COL. CLEVELAND WAS SENT TO DESTROY THEM.
WHICH HE DID MOST EFFECTIVELY THOUGH PERHAPS NOT VERY HONORABLE.

THE TORIES HAD COLLECTED THEIR FORCES IN THE BLUE RIDE 15 MILES NORTH OF THE YADSHIRE AND IN THE BRUSHY MOUNTAINS 4 MILES SOUTH, WHILE THE WHIGS WERE ON THE RIVER. EVERY MAN TO PASS UNMOLESTED AMONG THE WHIGS HAD TO HAVE A PASS FROM COL CLEVELAND. ONE DAY THE COL. COLLECTED HIS FORCES AND STARTED FOR THE TORIES ON THE BLUE RIDGE. GETTING ON THE MOUNTAINS THEY TURNED OUT THEIR HORSES TO EAT GRASS, WHILE THEY WALKED ABOUT HUNTING THE TORIES. SEARCH WAS IN VAIN NOT ONE COULD BE FOUND SO THEY RETURNED TO THE PLACE WHERE THEY HAD LEFT THEIR HORSES, BUT THEY HAD SCATTERED, NOT ONE WAS IN SIGHT, THE FAT COL. BEING WEARY SAT DOWN AND TOLD HIS MEN TO HUNT THE HORSES. THEY ALL LEFT AND PROCEEDED OUT OF SIGHT WHEN THE TORIES WHO WERE CONCEALED NEAR THE IMMEDIATE VICINITY SURROUNDED THE COL. BEFORE KILLING HIM THEY CONCLUDED TO MAKE HIM WRITE THEM ALL SOME PASSES BY WHICH THEY COULD LAWFULLY PASS AMONG THE WHIGS. AND STILL REMAIN TORIES. THEY COMPELLED HIM TO WRITE THEM AND STATIONED A MAN TO SHOOT HIM DOWN AS SOON AS HE HAD FINISHED THE LAST ONE, ONE AFTER ANOTHER WAS WRITTEN, HE WAS ALMOST THROUGH, STILL HIS MEN HAD NOT RETURNED, ONLY ONE MORE REMAINED TO BE WRITTEN, THE GUN THAT WAS TO SHOOT HIM DOWN WAS RAISED, HE WAS SLOWLY WRITING THE LAST LINE WHEN HIS MEN RETURNED, THEY SAW HIS PERILOUS SITUATION AND FIRED AT THE MAN STATIONED TO SHOOT THE COL. AND BROKE HIS RIGHT ARM.

THEY KILLED TWO OR THREE MORE AND THE REST ESCAPED, THE MAN WHOSE ARM WAS BROKEN WAS CARRIED TO THE YADSHIRE AND COMING TO A FIELD THEY SAW A LITTLE BOY PLOWING. THEY TOLD HIM TO BRING HIS LINES TO THEM AND WITH THEM THEY HANGED THE UNFORTUNATE MAN. THAT LITTLE BOY WAS JAMES GWYNN.

THEY BURIED THE BODY OF THIS GIANT MAN ON THE RIVER BANKS.

IN 1841 CAME A TREMENDOUS FRESHET AND EXPOSED A HUMAN SKELETON
THOSE WERE THE BONES OF THAT MAN. THE HATRED OF COL. CLEVELAND TO THE TORIES AFTER THIS NARROW ESCAPE HAD NO BOUNDS, AND HE RESOLVED TO DESTROY THEM IN ANY MANNER WHATEVER, ACCORDINGLY HE ISSUED A PROCLAMATION FROM WILKESBORO THAT PARDON SHOULD BE GRANTED TO ALL WHO WOULD COME AND ACKNOWLEDGE THEY HAD BEEN TORIES AND PROMISE TO JOIN THE WHIGS, THE TORIES NOW CAME FLOCKING UP AND ACKNOWLEDGED THEIR FAULTS AND PROMISED TO FIGHT FOR THEIR COUNTRY, BUT THE COL. SECURED EVERY ONE AND HANGED THEM IN THE STREETS OF WILKESBORO, THIS PUT AN END TO THE TORIES OF WILKES
AND SURRY COUNTIES. SOON AFTER THESE THINGS PEACE AND PROSPERITY
RETURNED TO THE WIDOW OF RICHARD GWYN.

COLONEL THOMAS LENOIR, FROM NEAR CAMDEN S.C. CAME THROUGH THE COUNTY OF WILKES AND ACCIDENTALLY CALLED ON THE WIDOW, THE RESULT OF THIS INTERVIEW WAS A MARRIAGE BETWEEN THEM.

RICHARD R, THE OLDEST SON WENT TO PAY A VISIT TO HIS MOTHER AFTER SHE WAS TAKEN TO S.C., AND BEING SO WELL PLEASED WITH THINGS THERE, HE WENT AGAIN TO SEE COL LENOIR, AND MARRIED HIS DAUGHTER MARTHA,

"KEPT A MIGHTY THINKING" AS HE WENT ON TO CHARLESTON.

AFTER HE RETURNED HOME HE FIXED UP AS WELL AS POSSIBLE AND MOUNTING HIS PONY STARTED AGAIN TO "SEE HIS MOTHER"

HE DESCRIBES HIMSELF AS BEING VERY LONG LEGGED AND BASHFUL, AND UPON THE WHOLE PRESENTING QUITE AN AWKWARD APPEARANCE.

HE WAS MORE THAN EVER PLEASED WITH THE MODEST AND UNAFFECTED GRACES OF

THE COLS, DAUGHTER AMELIA, BUT NOT A MINUTE COULD HE GET TO TALK WITH HER. SHE WOULD NOT SIT DOWN AND PASS OFF THE TIME IN FOOLISH AND IDLE CHIT-CHAT LIKE TOO MANY OF THE LADIES OF THE PRESENT DAY. SHE HAD TO KEEP HER LOOM GOING AND IF JAMES WANTED HER COMPANY HE HAD TO HAVE IT IN THE LOOM HOUSE, HE GOT RATHER TO PLAYING AROUND THE DOOR AND AT LAST VENTURED IN AS HE SAID, "TO HAND THE THREADS", BUT HE MADE A BAD HAND, FOR HE COULD NOT KEEP HIS EYES OFF AMELIA. IT GRIEVED HIM NO LITTLE TO THINK THAT SHE LOOKED UPON HIM AS A BOY FOR SHE WAS THREE YEARS THE OLDER. FINALLY THEY MARRIED AND MOVED TO THE OLD RESIDENCE IN WILKES COUNTY. THEY LIVED A USEFUL AND HAPPY LIFE.

THEY WERE MEMBERS OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH AND IN LIFE MADE THAT PREPARATION WHICH IS NECESSARY TO MEET DEATH WITH JOY, WITH CALMNESS, AND PEACE. AMELIA DIED IN 1848, HER SICKNESS SEEMED TO BE OF NO PARTICULAR KIND BUT MANY INFIRMITIES OF OLD AGE, SHE DIED A MOST HAPPY DEATH, SHE WOULD TELL HER CHILDREN AND GRAND CHILDREN MANY OF WHOM STOOD AROUND NOT TO WEEP FOR HER, SHE DELIGHTED TO QUOTE THE LANGUAGE OF THE SCRIPTURE.

THE LAST ONE SHE WAS HEARD TO UTTER IS JOB. "FOR I KNOW THAT MY REDEEMER LIVETH ETC." AFTER THIS ONE OF HER CHILDREN ASKED HER "IF SHE WOULD HAVE SOME WATER" SHE REPLIED "YES" BUT IT WAS NEVER GIVEN, SHE DIED. REV. JAMES PURVIS AT HER FUNERAL USED THE ABOVE TEXT.

JAMES DIED IN FEBY 1850. THEY LEFT NINE CHILDREN VIZ:

No account of the first barbecue given in Coweta Co, but here is the account of the last one mentioned in this history - given Thursday, 18 Aug 1927 by the WYNNE sisters - MISSES ANNIE, LOUISE and RUBY, at their home on Line creek, in honor of their friends, Harvey H North and Mrs North, to several hundred of their friends. Every detail - the perfectly cooked meats, the delightfully flavored Brunswick stew, the corn-lightbread (rarely served these days but delicious to all Southerners) besides the usual baked bread, pickles, fresh tomatoes, iced tea, lemonade and fruit punch, complete by such variety of delicious home baked cakes as only keepers-up of the old Southern ways of prodigal hospitality would provide.

Robert L. Landrum II

Dear Mr. Landrum,

I seem to have misplaced the Wynne Family Bulletin from the Association. You asked me to send you every little scrap I had on the Wynn (Wynne) family. I have been a long time getting it together, and a good list of it you will already have. This is the "gleanings" I have gotten together from census lists, marriage lists, etc. from my limited research in Kentucky, and I don't have all the sources for my information. I am afraid it is quite haphazard, and jumbled up, but you may get a few facts that will tie in with some ones Wynn genealogy.

I have had so many interruptions that I may have overlooked a lot of what I copied - Mrs. L. R. Thompson, 1304 Bedford Alta Vista, Va. 24517 has given me the best of my information. She has more on the Wynn lines than anyone I have corresponded with. Her letter came just as I had about given up on Jess Durrett Wynn's ancestors. It is such a large family to research, and the same given names are used in every family. There aren't too many dates, and I didn't note down my references when I first started out to research my line of Courts.

Well at any rate, here it is, for whatever use it may have.

Sincerely

A MONTHLY PUBLICATION FOR MONTGOMERY WARD EMPLOYEES

JUNE, 1970

Robert E. Brooker (left), who stepped down May 26 from the top posts of Marcor and Montgomery Ward, examines a student library chair, symbolic of the Robert E. Brooker Professorship of Marketing, Graduate School of Business, University of Southern California. With him is USC President Dr. Norman H. Topping, who made the presentation.

Brooker 'Hands Over the Reins'

Robert E. Brooker stepped down May 26 as chairman and chief executive officer of Marcor and chairman of Montgomery Ward to become chairman of the executive committee of both companies.

Mr. Brooker joined Wards as president in 1961, was elected a director in 1962 and chairman in 1966, and became chairman and chief executive officer of newly formed Marcor in 1968.

As chief executive of Wards and Marcor, he recently was credited by Fortune magazine with "The Strategy That Saved Montgomery Ward."

In a surprise tribute by directors and officers of Wards, the Robert E. Brooker Chair of Marketing was established in the graduate school of business administration at the University of Southern California, his alma mater.

Upon learning of the honor, Mr. Brooker's immediate response was, "Nothing could have pleased me more."

USC President Dr. Norman H. Topping, in announcing the Ward grant of $400,000 for creation of the chair of marketing, said it will serve as the focal point for development of an Advanced Center for Marketing Research and Education.

"The center," he said, "located in Los Angeles, one of the largest marketing centers in the world, will be capable of making a major contribution to modern marketing and distribution concepts."

Dr. Topping's announcement was made at a luncheon following the annual meeting of Marcor, where Mr. Brooker announced his retirement to stockholders.

Receives Symbolic Chair

Mr. Brooker was presented a student library chair, symbolic of the honor. A gold plaque on the back of the chair carried the inscription. "In recognition of his exceptional contribution to the company and community, Montgomery Ward has established the Robert E. Brooker Professorship of Marketing, Graduate School of Business Administration, University of Southern California, May, 1970."

In the May Fortune article, editor John McDonald said: "An American institution nearly a century old, Montgomery Ward was a badly ailing corporation when Robert Brooker became its top executive in 1961. Its earnings had just de-

Shareholders, Directors Okay Stock Split and Dividend Hike

A 60 per cent increase in the Marcor common stock dividend and a two-for-one split of Marcor common stock have been approved by stockholders and directors.

The new dividend will be paid at the annual rate of $1.60 per share, or 40 cents per quarter, on the stock prior to the split. The dividend is equal to 80 cents per share annually, or 20 cents per quarter, on the stock following the split, which becomes effective June 9. It will be paid July 15 to stockholders of record June 9.

The board declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents per share on Marcor convertible preferred stock, payable July 15 to stockholders of record June 9. As a result of the stock split, each issued share of preferred is convertible into two shares of common stock.

First Quarter Earnings Decline

First quarter net earnings for Marcor, reported earlier in May, decreased $722,000, or 6.5 per cent, to $10,433,000 from last year's first quarter earnings of $11,155,000. Sales in the period of February 1 through April 30 were $626,346,000, an increase of $18,301,000, or three per cent, from sales of $608,045,000 for the comparable period of 1969.

On a per share basis, Marcor earnings were 55 cents compared with 61 cents last year. Earnings per share for both years are based on average number of shares outstanding and reflect the effect of outstanding stock options. On a fully diluted basis, earnings per share were 53 cents compared with 57 cents in 1969.

First quarter sales increases were registered for both Montgomery Ward and Container Corp. Ward sales rose to a record $481,611,000 from $474,759,000 last year, an increase of 1.4 per cent. Container sales increased 5.8 per cent to a record $130,935,000 from $123,739,000 last year.

Increased Sales Predicted

Robert E. Brooker, who retired as chairman and chief executive officer of Marcor at the annual stockholders meeting, told stockholders: "The relative briskness of the retail business in the past few weeks is encouraging, and I am confident of a five to six per cent sales increase for the full year for Marcor because of the outlook for retail demand."

Mr. Brooker noted that the leveling off in retail demand that occurred in the last half of 1969 continued into the first quarter of 1970, limiting Wards' sales gains and contributing to the profit decline. Container's profits in the quarter rose modestly as sales increased 5.8 per cent over the period of a year ago.

"In management's judgment—considering current conditions—the operating performance of the Marcor companies in the quarter was highly satisfactory," Mr. Brooker told shareholders.

"Wards' first quarter results are a credit to its retail store

Schoenhofen Elected to Top Marcor Post

Leo H. Schoenhofen became chief executive officer and president of Marcor Inc. upon election by the board of directors May 26. He continues to serve as chairman of the executive committee of Container Corporation.

Robert E. Brooker, upon retirement as chairman of Marcor and Montgomery Ward, was elected chairman of the executive committees of Marcor and Montgomery Ward. He will also serve as chairman of a long-range planning committee of Marcor and chairman of another committee for the review of executive resources.

As chairman of Wards' executive committee, Mr. Brooker replaces James J. Nance, who retired from the boards of both Marcor and Montgomery Ward.

At the same meeting, Edward S. Donnell was reelected president and chief executive officer of Wards, and Henry G. Van der Eb was reelected president and chief executive officer of Container. The positions of chairman of the board of Marcor, Wards and Container Corp. were eliminated.

Mr. Schoenhofen joined Container Corporation in 1940 as assistant to the vice president and progressed through various positions to sales manager and then general manager. In 1952 he was named a division manager and elected a vice president. He was elected a senior vice president in 1954, a director in 1960, president in 1961 and chief executive officer in 1962. In 1968 he was elected president of Marcor.

Ft. Worth Unveils Expanded Central Service Facilities

FT. WORTH—May 27 was opening day for Wards' 80,000-square-foot central service center, which boasts expanded space and newly designed equipment to significantly increase overall efficiency.

The bi-level building, located slightly north of the Ft. Worth-Seventh St. store, houses a split operation. Half is the metro repair center; the other half houses Wards' subsidiary, National Hermetics, a re-manufacturing center which rebuilds motorcycle engines, pumps and hermetically sealed refrigeration compressors for Wards' service units nationally.

The repair service unit had been located in the Ft. Worth catalog house, and National Hermetics previously operated out of the metro warehouse. The new building provides both units with more space.

New equipment designed for the central service center includes:

- Air-operated lifts to raise appliances and lawnmower motors to work-bench height for quicker, easier servicing.
- A merchandise testing room in which temperature and humidity can be changed to match various weather conditions.
- A TV test system that transmits test patterns on open channels so sets can be adjusted throughout the service area with minimum equipment and time.

Metro Service Manager D. O. Bradley said the new repair unit also will do rigging—assembling boat trailers and mounting motors on boats.

At National Hermetics, which receives as many as 250 compressor orders a day, General Manager Herb Angel said, "We'll be using a central computer system through a line to Chicago to keep a daily check on production and distribution. The new system will tell us where compressors are anywhere in the United States on a day-to-day basis."

The new structure is unique in itself. According to Regional Engineering Manager Cliff Voss, the building incorporates a new process in soil stabilization, by which a lime slurry is injected under pressure about six feet beneath the foundation. "This prevents the soil from being affected by moisture and protects the building from any damage due to swelling and hardening of the surface beneath its slab foundation," he said.

Program Helps Servicemen Fit Into Civilian Life

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Wash.—Wards helped 24 U. S. Air Force and Army men prepare to enter civilian life recently with a training course which is the first of its kind for the company.

Region 4 Training Manager Larry Samuels taught the three-week course in merchandise management under the auspices of "Project Transition," a program designed to provide civilian skills to retiring career men and to young servicemen leaving the military.

"While other companies also participate in Project Transition, their instruction is mostly in manual and electronic skills," Mr. Samuels said. "Ours is strictly business training."

The first seven days of the course were spent in lectures about basic marketing and retailing. The remainder was an intensive study of employee and customer relations, psychology, merchandising principles, operation, inventory and training. Regional Invoice Manager Bill Spear and Regional Budget Manager Richard Thompson (then regional retail controller) were guest lecturers.

Mr. Samuels called the military program an untapped resource for Wards in addition to the value it has for the men and the country.

"So far we have placed three of the participants who completed the course with Wards," he said. "Several other placements are pending."

Most of the men are sergeants with supervision experience, and if hired, would begin as assistant department managers, he added.

clined sharply, its resources were strained, and it was not a serious contender in most major merchandise markets. This month," the article said, "Brooker retires to a less conspicuous position as chairman of the executive committee, where he will exercise considerable influence during the next five years. As he makes the switch, it can fairly be said that he has put the company well on the road to recovery."

"The story of this turnaround," the article continued, "contains the elements of a rare corporate adventure. Much of the drama involved merchandising tactics, the placement of retail stores, the management of inventories, the overhaul of procurement policies. But there was more to it than that. To achieve his goals, Brooker had to identify and reconcile Wards basic corporate values . . . Seldom has the influence of the values of management had more explicit effect on the fate of a corporation than it has had on Ward during Brooker's administration."

Reprints of the Fortune article are to be made available to Ward employees. The article was a compilation of several interviews with Mr. Brooker by Mr. McDonald, mostly in airplanes between business appointments. The article was in the form of a question and answer format.

Asked the most important decisions he had to make at Wards, Mr. Brooker replied that these involved people. "I mean that turning Ward around was not a one-man job," he said. "There were some good men already at Ward. But I had to go outside to get many of the people I needed . . ."

Mr. Brooker said in the article that "The key to mass merchandising as I conceive it is controlling the flow of goods to the market." To make this system more effective at Wards, he explained that he made the buyers fully responsible for controlling procurement of merchandise. "Our policy used to be not to be critical if we lost business as a result of a lack of inventory. Buyers were criticized only if they overstocked. . . . Now we have a performance standard—both ways, for the store and the buyer. Not to have too much or too little. It is quite a responsibility. . . ."

To stay with competition, Mr. Brooker pointed out that pricing is extremely important. He said Wards shops its competitors and is alert to changes. It also watches credit sales and credit terms of competition and the services they offer. "When you put your price down, your competitor will meet you," he said. "That's not a probability; it's a dead certainty. . . . Sometimes you can cut prices and hold up sales, if you do it skillfully. But usually if you cut the price on an important item, you won't get a bigger share of the market. Essentially," he added, "mass merchandising is planning in advance."

management which promoted sales without loss of gross margins and which controlled expenses," Mr. Brooker continued. He also praised the mail order division for improving first quarter results for the third straight year.

Leo H. Schoenhofen, who succeeded Mr. Brooker as chief executive officer, paid tribute to Mr. Brooker's accomplishments in reorganizing and rebuilding Wards after joining the company in 1961. He pointed out that Marcor's long-range plans assure "the continuity of management and resources to take full advantage of profit opportunities this year and throughout the 70's."

Mr. Brooker received a standing ovation and was presented with a bronze trophy dedicated to the "All-American Merchandiser." Several other shareholders delivered short speeches praising Mr. Brooker's contributions to Wards and Marcor.

The meeting was held in the corporate office auditorium in Chicago, and was attended by several hundred shareholders and news media representatives. The proceedings also were carried by closed circuit television to employees in the Los Angeles and New York offices in addition to two other locations in the corporate building.

Other highlights of the meeting:

Edward S. Donnell, president and chief executive officer of Montgomery Ward, said Wards' compounded rate of sales growth during the next decade will be an average of about 10 per cent on a straight-line basis. Wards expects to open 300 new stores in this period, 25 of them in 1970.

In the 70's, Wards will open 125 stores in metropolitan markets, the majority in regional shopping center buildings.

Thirteen of this year's new stores will be self-service units of modular construction, which will allow the company to continue expansion despite the slowdown in major shopping centers.

Catalog sales were up 4.3 per cent in the first quarter, and profits exceeded last year's by five per cent. Mr. Donnell credited new catalogs, creation of 900 catalog sales agencies and 85 catalog stores with auto service centers as the contributors to the increases.

NEW ORLEANS PHONE UNIT

Business as Usual— But Without a Store

NEW ORLEANS, La.—"Saleswomen Without a Store" sounds like a book title, but really it describes the situation of eight women in this metropolitan Southern city who sell Ward merchandise from the 10th floor of a downtown building without benefit of a store showroom. Operating by telephone only, they are like a catalog store except that all orders are parcel deliveries, not will-calls.

The New Orleans metro phone unit has been operating since 1967, the year it replaced a catalog store in a suburban shopping center. Cincinnati, Ohio, is the only other market Wards serves by such a unit, and Columbus, Ohio, will become the third unit shortly.

The company, of course, has telephone centers in most major cities, complimented by nearby retail and catalog stores. With a metro phone unit like those in New Orleans and Cincinnati, however, the telephone room is the store. The nearest retail store to New Orleans is 50 miles away; the nearest catalog outlet 30 miles.

"Identification is a problem for us," says Mrs. Edye Nuyttens, center manager. "In some cases the Ward name is not too well-known since people haven't been exposed to it. The catalog store here wasn't open very long, and Wards in New Orleans became this telephone center when the store closed. Because it's such a large area, the competition we face is very intense."

Intense or not, New Orleans' April operating statement shows both sales and profit increases over the first quarter of 1969.

Cincinnati also shows improvements in sales and earnings for April and year-to-date, despite a truck strike which has slowed deliveries from its parent house in Chicago.

The workload in the unit, located just around the corner from Bourbon Street and the French Quarter, is highly specialized among the eight full-time women employees. Three of them handle all incoming calls, and each carries one additional responsibility as time permits. One serves as credit manager, another is in charge of inventory records, and the third handles parts ordering and repair service.

The four other women concentrate solely on telephone promotion; they don't become involved in day-to-day operating and housekeeping duties. Mrs. Nuyttens says she schedules it this way; she wants her promotion girls to think of nothing but getting sales.

Comments

FROM
CUSTOMERS

Here's a sampling of what our customers are telling us about their reactions to our goods and services. We can look back and learn a lot from their letters, whether complaints or compliments, in this new, regular FORWARD feature.

For example, this customer found that returning a mirror can be pretty exhausting:

"When I go to return something, even with the sales slip, I must wait in the store until someone comes back from dinner so they can decide if they remember selling it to me. I waited 45 minutes while trying to return a mirror I'd bought a couple of days before."

Another customer, however, explained his more amiable experience:

"I brought back a gallon of paint to your store I'd kept for six months and found I didn't need. I expected a big argument, but the salesman handled my refund in no time at all."

No one likes waiting in line at a customer accommodation center:

"Have you ever been sixth in line to have a check cashed, and get up to the window just in time to have the cashier tell you she was going to lunch? I got in the next line (which was five deep) only to be told they didn't cash checks at that window."

Nor do shoppers like to be kept out of a store, as rarely as it might occur:

"I headed for your store at 10 a.m. At the door, however, we were stopped by the manager who informed us that the store was opened to credit customers only for the first hour that day. I told him I was strictly a cash customer; that I didn't believe in credit buying. The manager said a rule prevented him from letting me enter, and that I should return after 11 a.m. I did, at 11:15, but again I was halted. The clocks changed from Daylight Saving to Standard Time that day, and I'd forgotten to set my watch back. I watched the entrance for the next 30 minutes, and 57 cash customers were turned away by the manager. As a stockholder I will probably return to Wards, but it isn't a very friendly place, and its manager is rather weak if he does not know when to bend a rule."

Shoppers can be appreciative when the service is outstanding:

"Mr. Al Jantz of St. Paul didn't let the postmen's strike or an out-of-stock condition slow him up when it came to helping me get a part for my Ward washing machine. When I needed it I was told it would have to be ordered and would take a month to arrive. I needed it right away, though, and when I called the office of Mr. Donald Boyd (St. Paul house customer service manager), Mr. Jantz received the call. I explained my situation, and he was able to locate such a part and said it would be shipped immediately. It was, and it was installed the same day."

This Pennsylvania customer greatly appreciated an employee's help:

"I wrote to you last month about a purchase I made at your store in Indiana, Pa. There had been a mistake in the bill for it, and the carpet department manager, a Mr. Ralph Greene, said he would take care of it. This man is to be highly commended for the way he handled this situation."

This customer was at her wit's end:

"I am writing to you (Edward S. Donnell) in a last desperate attempt, after trying for seven months to go through proper channels. I have written innumerable letters, been down to our local catalog office and have tried phoning about a $150 rug that I never ordered, was sent to my house and left on the front lawn while I was shopping, and has been on my bill for seven months. I have never had an acknowledgement to any of the letters I have sent. . . . Has the merchandising business become so computerized that the customer can no longer receive the courtesy of an answer when there is some question about their account?"

A Chicago woman had account trouble after straightening out problems in getting her lawnmower repaired:

"To write my complete story would be a short novel. . . . In all fairness, I do have the mower back, but I still do not have my complete bag assembly, which I need to pick leaves off the ground. The store did give me a new bag, but when I tried to assemble it I found I needed another part for it. I called the store and they said they'd order it. Fine. After two more weeks I went to the Post Office to pick it up. Guess what? They sent me the wrong part. Now again I sit here waiting. . . . Can you do something for me, because before long I'll need a snowplow, not a mower."

Good merchandise and service is appreciated, however, as this California man writes:

"After 30-plus years of buying appliances on the basis of the 'best buy' for an individual item, we decided to have a complete line of Wards' appliances. We now have your clothes washer, clothes dryer, dish washer, range, blower-type exhaust hood and refrigerator. We are counting on you to maintain your service department which will in turn insure a reasonable service life for our equipment. So far we have been quite pleased with the service obtained and are confident that the future will show no change."

We need more letters like this one from a young girl in Minnesota:

"Gentlemen: Five years ago I stole a green knit suit from your store, priced $15.95. It has been a great weight of guilt to my soul ever since. In an effort to make restitution I am sending you the money for the dress. I am truly sorry for the injustice I have done to you and your company—and most of all to God. Please forgive me and accept my apology."

Bees in Our Business? See the Outdoor Catalog

Thoughts of spring. No more snow. Buds on the trees. Birds and bees. Brings to mind that Wards is still in the bee business as a quick look at the 1970 Lawn, Garden and Farm catalog will show.

Bees, however, are one of the last vestiges of rural, small farm flavor in the current catalog, whose assortment reflects the decrease of small farms in the U.S. and the increase of suburbanites and industrial landscapers.

While the 1970 Lawn, Garden and Farm catalog, distributed to over a million people, continues to offer such farm standards as egg candlers, feeders, milk pasteurizers and water troughs, the emphasis is on a variety of interesting items most anyone can use in his own backyard.

Vacuums and sweepers have come out of the house and onto the lawn this year. New in the catalog, these power machines offer a quick, easy means of ridding lawns and patios of leaves and debris. Then, to avoid burning them—an action which many community ordinances forbid—their pollution fighting partner, the composter, will grind the material for bagging and discarding or for use as garden fertilizer.

More Tractor Uses

That old farm standard, the tractor, has been drawn into suburban service as the catalog assortment will show. Home owners increasingly use tractors to perform such otherwise strenuous chores as mowing, tilling, hauling and snow clearing.

Other catalog items have a particular appeal to do-it-yourselfers. According to Department 89 Catalog Sales Manager John Herbert, people find it less expensive to buy a Ward chain saw for cutting down dead trees than paying for the service, and they have the additional advantage of creating their own firewood.

It is also more economical, says Mr. Herbert, to buy your own cement mixer from the catalog and set your own patio rather than having it done, even if you never use the mixer again.

For instant landscaping, the catalog offers maintenance-free poly-vinyl chloride trees and shrubs that duplicate cypress yews, topiary trees, jungle bushes and tropical palms. Any of the catalog's four decorative water fountains will add that extra touch.

Fencing a Big Seller

Vinyl-clad fencing is still another popular maintenance-free item, because it never needs painting, doesn't darken due to air borne chemicals and has smooth edges. It's grass-green color is compatible with natural surroundings.

Dwarf apple, peach and pear trees are a solution for fresh fruit lovers with small back yards. Each grows in just a six-by-six foot space and reaches eight to ten feet tall.

As the notions of ecological balance gain exposure, suburbanites and city dwellers alike will take note of the catalog's Purple Martin bird houses. A hungry Purple Martin has been known to gobble as many as 2,000 mosquitoes daily and either of Wards' houses has space for 12 birds.

The catalog's final pages offer a selection of lawn storage buildings. "People are finding that by the time they have put their lawn equipment, toys and other accessories into the garage, their car ends up in the driveway," says Mr. Herbert. "So the solution is a separate storage unit." One of the most popular, he says, is large enough to store two snowmobiles. But winter's another story.

President Meets Press

President Edward S. Donnell was quizzed on the subject of consumerism during a 30-minute telecast of "Your Right to Say It," over WGN-TV May 31 in Chicago. The press was represented by Jack Mabley, associate editor of Chicago Today, and Jack Taylor of WGN-TV News. James McBurney (right), dean of Northwestern University's school of speech, was moderator. The show is being syndicated to 13 television stations and more than 200 radio stations around the country during June and early July.

"POP!"

Company-wide Credit Promo Begins to Make Big Noise

The company-wide POP credit campaign is making noises in several parts of the country as both catalog and retail stores hustle to gain new accounts and plus sales.

More than a quarter of a million shoppers have filled out POP, or point-of-purchase, application cards since the major promotion got underway in February.

POP is the abbreviated application form which offers speed and convenience to customers in obtaining Charg-all plates. Instead of answering a long list of questions, they can complete a brief form to begin their credit processing. More and more salespeople are becoming POP believers, and pockets of success are becoming more numerous each week.

Year-Long Success

The most outstanding report reaching Chicago is that of Mrs. Nettie Wynn, department 28 manager in Monroe, La. During 1969, when some stores were on the POP program although it had not yet become a corporate project, Mrs. Wynn gathered 1,139 completed application forms by relying primarily on two phrases: "May I charge this purchase for you?" and "Let me have our credit manager send you a charge plate."

Her total is an average of nearly 23 POPs per week for 12 consecutive months. Based on a figure of $200 in sales per Charg-all account, Mrs. Wynn was responsible for a projected $227,800 additional sales for her store. Her Midas touch has rubbed off on others, and Mrs. Gloria Clark, a co-worker in department 66, received 35 completed POPs one recent Saturday.

In Poplar Bluff, Mo., classified as a small store, department 89 manager Fred Landreth brought in 38 POP applications one week along with a 52 per cent sales increase. Two salespeople in Dover, Ohio, Angela Harris and James Booth, contributed to their store's performance. They built a special decorated booth near the main entrance, approached each customer with the advantages of Charg-all, and earned 45 completed POP cards.

174 POPs a Week

One of the best catalog reports comes from the tiny town of St. Francis, Kan., where the local Ward sales agency serves the population of 1,400 families and the surrounding trade area. Through January the agency had 250 accounts. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Don Jensen, began a POP program in February, and in the first week opened 174 new accounts simply by asking customers at catalog distribution time if they'd like a Charg-all account.

The nearby Benkelman, Neb., agency, which the Jensens also owned at the time, reported POP accounts 840 per cent to objective after it began its program. The company catalog store in Colby, Kan., was 170 per cent to quota for February. Their parent catalog house, Denver, which has picked up the program well, was 116 per cent to quota through April.

The POP project has stirred up competition of more than passing interest among retail stores. In Region 3, weekly reports are issued for the region's two retail districts showing each store's POP performance, and store personnel follow the standings religiously.

District 2, the southern portion of the region, has several noteworthy stores, with Monroe, La., and Albuquerque, N.M., exchanging top honors on a regular basis. Waco, Tex., and Little Rock, Ark., also usually appear among the top ten.

Mrs. Nettie Wynn, department 28 manager in Monroe, La., is her store's undisputed POP account queen and possibly the company's most productive. Store Manager A. J. McBee is proud of the fact that she turned in 1,139 POP applications last year, representing potential sales of $227,800.

In District 1, Lincoln, Neb., was the leader through the third week of May.

Watchful Management

"It's a matter of three things," said Lincoln Store Manager Larry Rowan. "First comes management attention. We're on the floor frequently, encouraging people to solicit accounts, letting them know we're watching. Second, we put out a weekly POP bulletin showing individual productivity, and no one likes to come up empty on it. And third, we post or circulate newsletters and bulletins we get from the district or regional office when we make a good showing—that builds pride."

Mr. Rowan paid a special tribute to one salesman. "We have many who do a good job for us, but C. H. 'Johnny' Johnson is about the best. He's a 30-year-plus man, our department 81 manager, and he never finishes a week with less than 25 applications."

In the Far West, the Portland house sponsored a POP Bingo promotion in May's POP Week. In the East, Albany tied a stock market wrinkle to its POP Week promotion, offering a 5-for-1 return on investment (A POP card drawn from a barrel meant $5 to the salesperson who turned it in). House General Manager Bill Sims explained that the average cash customer spends $40 a year at Wards, the average credit customer $200—five times as much.

Reasoning Explained

In a bulletin to catalog units describing how individuals can win the cash incentives, Mr. Sims outlined the crux of the POP program.

Ninety-nine times out of 100, when a customer comes into a store she is not there to open a Charg-all account. So when asked if she'd like the credit manager to send her a personal account plate, she'll probably say, (1) "Not today, I'll have to think about it," (2) "I'll have to ask my husband," (3) "I don't have time," or (4) "I always pay cash."

What she is thinking, however, is (1) "I don't have time to fill out a long application," or (2) "I'll have to give out too much personal information."

With the abbreviated POP applications these objections are resolved.

Successful salesmen say they show the customer the application, then sell the advantages of Charg-all because:

- it provides a monthly accounting record
- the customer doesn't need to carry large amounts of cash
- she automatically will receive records at end of the year for tax purposes
- she can order direct from home without sending a check or coming in to the store
- she'll receive advanced notice of sales events, special offers and private sales.

"Be prepared to answer a shopper's objections," says Mr. Sims. "Show her the benefits, then let her fill out her POP application card."

TWICE IN A ROW

St. Paul Wins Lutz Trophy

The St. Paul catalog house, riding a sustained crest of hard work and good fortune, won the Lutz Trophy in April for sales improvement and is now within a whisper of retiring the statue for good.

St. Paul's catalog stores and sales agencies registered a 9.7 per cent sales increase for the month over April, 1969. The house had posted an 8.6 per cent gain in January to win it that month, also.

Based on parent house sales increases for the last month of each quarter, the first house to win the trophy three times—and not necessarily in succession—earns its permanent possession. To date, St. Paul, Ft. Worth, Chicago and Oakland have won it twice, and Denver once.

At this point the momentum for completing the grand slam appears to favor St. Paul. In addition to two consecutive trophy victories, St. Paul finished 1969 first in per cent of pretax earnings and total dollars in pretax earnings.

It also was tops in per cent of increase in parent house net sales for the year, and finished second in the Golden Key contest, the most comprehensive open assessment the company makes on overall house operations.

"I'm very pleased, naturally, that we won the Lutz Trophy a second time," commented General Manager Ken Trepp. "Things have been going well for us lately, and when we put it all together, we have a better chance than anyone else at permanently retiring the Lutz Trophy. And that's what we aim to do when July gets here."

Behind St. Paul in April, in order, came Kansas City, Ft. Worth, Baltimore, Denver, Albany, Oakland, Portland and Chicago.

St. Paul's Bill Crimmins (left), house assistant general manager, and Ken Trepp, general manager, retained the Lutz Trophy for catalog sales in April.

Florida Tops X-Day Marks

TAMPA, Fla.—Florida's Tampa and Orlando metro districts staged "the most fantastic X-Day sales ever" in April and carried off regional honors.

The Tampa metro led the way, with sales 92.5 per cent over last year and 88.8 per cent over objective. Metro District Manager Joe Stockton said they were the best X-Days the state's stores have ever had.

Lakeland was the metro's best and also was the top metro store in Region 1. Sales were 346 per cent to quota. At a celebration banquet, Mr. Stockton gave plaques to top salesmen and top X-Days department managers in the district, and Lakeland won 13 of the 25 awards. The highest salesman at Lakeland was George Neal of departments 68-69-85, with sales 1166 per cent over his quota.

Lakeland Store Manager B. H. Myhand also pointed out that his storewide sales were up 21 per cent for April over last year.

Orlando Metro District Manager J. E. McGarrah reported his district was 77.4 per cent over last year's figures and 48.4 per cent over objective. The district's southern-most store, West Palm Beach, led the six-store group. Its sales were 163.4 per cent to objective and 248.8 per cent over 1969's performance.

Return Prevention Pays Off

OAKLAND—The first three winners of a new Oakland catalog house program to prevent merchandise returns have been awarded gift certificates.

The program saved $12,296 in April returns by encouraging all timecard employees involved in order handling and processing to find and prevent such return problems as wrong fills, wrong preps, size problems, incomplete orders, excessive delays and duplicate shipments.

Shipper Checker Enrique Tolefree won first prize, a $50 certificate. Second prize, a $25 certificate, went to Freight Handler Jewel Taylor. Stock Clerk John Notti won third prize, a $10 certificate.

Speaks at Furnishings Parley

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Department 77 National Merchandise Manager S. N. Doolittle addressed the National Retail Merchants Association's Home Furnishing Conference in mid-May, discussing the broadening scope of merchandising in the 1970's.

Wards' Store Survives Violent Lubbock Storm

LUBBOCK, Tex.—The killer tornado which ripped through this city of 170,000 on the evening of May 11 and caused an estimated $100 million in damage, spared Wards' retail store and employees from serious harm. The store suffered only broken front windows and opened for business the next day.

None of the 20 dead or more than 500 left injured were Ward employees, but it was two days before anyone knew for certain that Catalog Manager Vaudine McGinnis and saleswoman Jeanette Brown were safe.

"Immediately after the storm we searched our personnel records checking for employees who had not reported for work or called in," said Personnel Manager Myrna Parkinson. "We discovered both women lived in areas which were hit. Since these sections were under curfew and we were not permitted to enter, we asked the police for help," she continued. "Before they could, both employees reached us by phone."

As Lubbock, designated a major disaster area, received swift assistance from national, state and other sources, most Lubbock store employees acted as volunteers working through agencies to help disaster victims, according to Mrs. Parkinson.

On the lighter side, one Ward employee, Ft. Worth Metro Service Manager Don Crawford, has a peculiar recollection of the storm.

On a business trip to the store, Mr. Crawford was staying in a Lubbock motel the night of the disaster. The next morning he awoke to discover there was no running water. Only when he complained to the management did he discover he had slept through the tornado.

Wins Photography Awards

NORWALK, Ohio—Tim Schaefer, a part-time stockboy, recently won two first place awards in photojournalism competition sponsored by the Northwest Ohio District Journalism Association.

His photos of a fire won the awards, one in the news division and the other in the feature story division. He also received a third-place honor in the special effects category with a solarized picture of a football action scene. (Phyllis Steele, correspondent)

Life-Saving Money Saver

COLUMBIA, Mo.—A Money Saver offered last October became a Life Saver—and not the kind you eat—for Kansas City's District 3 Manager, N. Y. "Bud" Myers.

Mr. Myers bought a department 84 fire extinguisher offered last October in the Money Saver program and put it in a strategic location in his home. Early one Sunday morning shortly afterward, he smelled smoke in his new home, rushed downstairs, and saw flames leaping from the furnace onto the ceiling above.

"With the help of Wards' #8639 fire extinguisher that sold for only $6.88, I was able to extinguish the fire with no damage to my home or personal belongings," Mr. Myers said. He adds that he'll always be ready to provide a living testimonial for why everyone should own a Wards' extinguisher.

Award Program Wins Citation

DENVER—The Denver metro's Young American Awards program received professional plaudits recently from the association of International Newspaper Advertising Executives (INAE). INAE presented a citation to Wards for advertising published in the Denver Post in connection with the program and will reproduce the ads in its annual Sales and Idea Book.

Denver's Young American Awards program, now in its fourth year, selects four outstanding local teens each month and honors them with an 18 by 24-inch charcoal portrait which is reproduced in the newspaper along with a synopsis of their accomplishments. At year end the metro hosts a banquet for the teens, their parents and civic leaders.

Suds Sale Record to Decatur

DECATUR, Ill.—Storewide team competition during the annual detergent sales contest brought a new national record to Decatur.

Store employees sold 2,133 boxes in response to the leadership of team captains William Motsinger, merchandise manager, and William Calog, management trainee. Store manager R. R. Howell credits the spirit of all employees for the promotion's success, and added that this year's total added to last year's represents 4,248 boxes sold.

Top prize for the most boxes sold—a $50 shopping spree—went to department 89 manager Vern Sinclair with 285. The winning team was coached by Mr. Motsinger. (W. C. Calog, correspondent)

'Showing' Off

When it came to costumes for Northwestern University's 1970 Waa-Mu Show, one of the most widely acclaimed college musical revues in the country, the cast turned to Wards' general catalog and just started ordering away. Total order, according to George McClelland, commercial sales manager, and Jack Burns, Chicago State Street store manager, came to 66 dresses, seven knit shirts and 16 umbrellas. The collegians, shown here in a scene from the show, are wearing Ward outfits. Proceeds from the show provide about $10,000 every year in undergraduate scholarships for students of the Evanston, Ill., school.

LTD PROTECTION

Millionaires Don't Need It

Who needs coverage under the Long Term Disability Plan?

It may be easier to answer the question, "Who doesn't?"

Independently wealthy people working only to occupy their idle hours may not need this coverage. People who will never suffer from any serious accident or illness may not need this protection either, if they're fortunate enough to know who they are. Then there's the carefree soul who knows he can rely on the county welfare department to pay the bills while he's not working.

Some of the following questions could have been asked by the curious people at one time or another:

Q. What is the main purpose of the LTD Plan?

A. To provide protection against loss of earnings when the individual is unable to work because of illness or injury.

Q. Don't we already have such protection through our Group Insurance Plan?

A. The Group Insurance Plan provides a maximum of four weeks of disability income for wage employees with less than five years service. When employees have more than five years service they are entitled to a maximum of one additional week for each year of service. Supervisory and management employees are entitled to a period of salary continuance with a maximum duration determined by their length of service. The LTD Plan is designed to pick up where these plans leave off.

Q. I understand that the LTD Plan pays only 50 per cent of my regular earnings. I can't live on what I'm making now. How can I afford to be sick?

A. It's true that plan benefits won't exceed 50 per cent of your covered earnings, but when you consider how much of your earnings you actually receive after deductions, transportation and lunch expenses, etc., you probably don't have much more than 50 per cent of your gross earnings left anyway.

LTD benefits are non-taxable, of course, and Profit-Sharing and Retirement Plan contributions are made by the insurance company for Plan members collecting LTD benefits. You may also qualify for disability benefits under Social Security. If you do, your LTD benefit will not be reduced unless combined Social Security and LTD benefits exceed 75 per cent of your regular earnings.

Q. But LTD benefits are not paid for every disability, are they?

A. Not in every case. Disabilities that result from pregnancy or pregnancy-related conditions, intentionally self-inflicted injuries, war or acts of war are not covered at all. Certain illnesses, such as mental and nervous conditions, alcoholism and drug addiction are covered only while you are confined to a hospital or other qualified institution. And, of course, you wouldn't really expect to receive disability benefits for an illness you contracted before you became insured, would you? Despite these modest limitations, participants are protected in an overwhelming majority of cases when the illness or injury occurs after the insurance becomes effective.

By Pat Rogers

KILLEEN, Tex.—True to one of Texas' better-known characteristics, a Ward catalog store deep in the heart of this state is laying claim to being the biggest C-D lines operation in the country.

It's a boast statistics bear out. Located near the U. S. Army's Ft. Hood, Killeen swept the nation last year in sales volume and beat all other catalog stores in the Ft. Worth territory for dollar profit, per cent of profit and sales increase.

FORWARD visited the 8,500-square-foot Killeen operation on a sunny, windy spring day. Store Manager George Seales, named the territory's store manager of the year for 1969, has been busy since 6:30 a.m.

He shuffles a deck of 15 prospect cards. "This is about normal," he says. "Besides the ones developed over the phone, my servicemen each turn in one a day. About one third will pan out."

"Sales for Seales"

With five territorial trophies lining his modest office, and sales running at about a 33 per cent increase year-to-date in May, Mr. Seales is justly proud of Killeen's success. Shortly after he came to the store in February, 1969, from Hobbs, N. M., employees adopted the slogan "Sales for Seales." Mild-mannered and personable, he says of his people—"after 71 consecutive weekly increases—"They haven't let me down yet."

Mr. Seales estimates that about 80 per cent of the store's business comes from Ft. Hood, where the army has two armored divisions and supporting companies. About his competition from a large Sears store in Killeen, he says, "They don't worry me. I just worry about what I'm doing."

Not a believer in gimmicks, Mr. Seales declined to run a warehouse sale last year, because, while previous ones generated a lot of sales, they weren't too profitable. He attributes Killeen's success to following company programs and a staff which makes them work. According to District Manager C. B. Kirk, at Killeen they do a lot of things right, including preparation for promotions with advertising and display. In March, Killeen was 100 per cent to quota in sales, Money Savers, POP applications, service contracts and credit sales.

The Killeen operation actually covers three large lots. The new building with display merchandise, sales counter, credit department, office, stockroom and TBA service bays, is situated in a corner location on one of Killeen's three main streets. A partially covered lot filled with cycles, mowers, boats and other outdoor items bridges the space to the old catalog store, now an outlet for liquidation stock and headquarters for the repair service.

In all, Killeen has 33 full and part-time employees, including two management trainees. Many, such as Office Manager Pat Parker, have long service. Employees say they like working here, and five demonstrated their dedication by selling more than $100,000 each last year.

Two employees, Cora Bellon and J. W. Beauchamp, a retired chief warrant officer, work the sales counter in the front, where display turnover last year was a whopping 7.5 per cent. "I wish I could sell every big ticket item we have," Mrs. Bellon remarked, and she almost does. A third of all sales are off the floor, a feat aided by the large display of merchandise, strong selling and a good commission sales program.

Outside Sales Strong

Commission salesmen Bert Pierson and Ray Dodgion are hard men to get together. Mr. Pierson is a retired major who divides his time between inside and outside sales, while Mr. Dodgion, another retired chief warrant officer, sells completely outside. Both men were among those who broke the $100,000 mark. Energetic and sparkling, Mr. Pierson explained, "We're not super salesmen in Killeen. But I can tell you—I've sold insurance, mutual funds and worked in a discount store—when you are happy doing what you're doing, people just buy from you."

Besides following leads, Mr. Pierson and Mr. Dodgion contact trailer homes on a door-to-door basis. "They simply introduce themselves, tell people to contact us if they need anything, and give them some promotional piece such as a sale catalog," Mr. Seales explains. "About 30 per cent of our market lives in trailer parks, and they are constantly moving in and out, so this is the best way to reach them."

Telephone Supervisor Bennie Anderson (left) sells a refrigerator and an air conditioner totaling $800 after first contacting her customer by phone.

Telephone Supervisor Bennie Anderson jumped into the $100,000 sales bracket last year by selling Money Savers and following big ticket leads. She is one of two fulltime telephone promoters: three other telephone girls promote in their spare time, and according to Mr. Seales, "they're ambitious." Telephone sales increased 159 per cent last year.

In auto service, Service Manager George Thompson and three servicemen handle a steady stream of customers. With just two auto service bays and as many as seven cars in for repair at a time, the overflow is parked outside under a canopy. Killeen's TBA holds the territory's trophy for best 1969 sales increase and per cent of profit.

It's late in the afternoon when Repair Service Manager Clarence Tressler returns to the store. He has just installed another central air conditioning system and predicts the number will mount to 50 by summer's end. Repair service thrives on delivery and installation income, which nearly doubled last year, and on service contract sales. The previous week's service contracts totaled $1,120.

At closing time, Mr. Pierson and Mrs. Bellon help a customer make a last minute decision, about a simple item—a room divider. Both offer suggestions, determine her requirements and turn catalog pages. "I'll just have to ask my husband," the customer finally says. As she leaves, Mr. Pierson says, "She'll be back tomorrow. I just know it." And no one minds closing a moment late.

Fresh from installing an air conditioner, Repair Service Manager Clarence Tressler, returns to his office. An expert in his field, he teaches refrigeration at Central Texas Junior College in the evenings.

Inside the Killeen store Commission Salesmen Ray Dodgion (left) and Bert Pierson spend a rare moment together.

When telephone specialists are swamped, Store Manager George Seales takes a customer's call. "I don't ask my staff to do anything I wouldn't do," he says—and means it.
